'America's Answer' to Russia

Plan for First Atomic Power Plant Is Announced by AEC

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States today announced the first full-scale attempt to tame atomic power for peace—a move billed as "America's answer" to Soviet claims of mastery over dread new nuclear weapons of war.

Thomas E. Murray, a member, said the Atomic Energy Commission will build an industrial power reactor producing at least 60,000 kilowatts of electrical energy — enough to run a city of 50,000.

Could Be in Ohio

He said the project will cost "many tens of millions of dollars" and that the AEC hopes to have an operating plant in three to four years.

The plan, Murray said, may be located "at or near" an AEC facility for separating uranium-235, the paydirt of atomic power, from natural uranium. The AEC has one such facility at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and is building others at Paducah, Ky., and Portsmouth, Ohio.

He said Westinghouse Corp. will be the principal contractor for the new plant which, he said, is of a design "inherited from a naval project." Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, the Navy's reactor expert was given "immediate responsibility" for the new program.

Murray's historic announcement —a little more than eight years after the United States unleashed the world's first atomic bomb at Hiroshima—came in a speech prepared for the electric companies' public information program.

He said the AEC decided to beat Russia to the punch by pushing ahead first with an industrial power program instead of concentrating almost exclusively on reactors for military use.

'America's Answer'

"This is America's answer—its significant peacetime answer—to recent Soviet atomic weapons tests," Murray said. "It should show the world that, even in this gravest phase of arming for defense, America's eyes are still on the peaceful future."

Murray said the world was stunned when Russia announced recently it had the hydrogen bomb.

But he said world peace would have been more gravely endangered if Russia had announced successful operation of an industrial power plant—and had offered to swap atomic know-how for uranium produced by other countries.

"There is no secret that our atomic weapons program depends upon receipt of substantial quantities of uranium from foreign nations," he said.

". . . I believe that unless we embark on an all-out attack on our nuclear power program immediately, we may be deprived of foreign uranium ores with the result that our weapons potential will be smaller than need be the case."

Countries hungry for the new source of power, no matter how repelled they are by Soviet tyranny, would gravitate toward Russia, he said.

But Murray stressed that the AEC was not putting all its atomic reactor eggs in one basket.

"In the immediate future," he said, "we expect to propose the construction of different types of reactors that will explore promising avenues of approach to practical nuclear power."

Murray said the tremendous cost of building, testing and perfecting an industrial atomic power plant rules out any such development by private enterprise without government help, but "the work should gradually be transferred from the federal government."

While Westinghouse was chosen as principal contractor, he said, the AEC welcomes offers from other firms "to invest risk capital in the building of the steam and turbine portions, as well as in the operation of the entire plant."

Details Outlined

The AEC commissioner gave these details:

1. The design chosen was "inherited from a naval project"—presumably some modification of the type originally envisioned for powering an aircraft carrier.

2. Westinghouse was picked as principal contractor because of its "previous experience with the reactor system chosen."

3. General supervision of the new project will be in charge of AEC's Reactor Development Division, with immediate responsibility assigned to Rickover because of his "unique experience and accomplishments in building propulsion power reactors for the commission and for the Navy."

4. Costs of power from the projected plant "will be higher than costs from modern (non-nuclear) plants."

SHATTERS A TRADITION. Miss R. Belladona Villines poses in the lawyer's lounge after smashing an old Supreme Court tradition that no one even remotely resembling a "sweater girl" must ever divert the attention of the justices from their thoughts of law. She did it by going before the court in her knit dress to be admitted to Supreme Court practice. Miss Villines—that's her professional name—is a lawyer who practiced in Chicago until recently.

U.N. Will Get Spot Report On Palestine

Top Truce Supervisor Slated for Security Council Appearance

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. ecurity Council prepared today to hear a first-hand report on the growing strife in Palestine which has sparked a Big Three call for a full inquiry and counterdemands for council action from Syria and Israel.

Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike of Denmark, chief of the U. N. truce supervision group along the Israeli-Arab frontier, was due to arrive in New York today to make the spot report. U. N. informants said he might appear before the 11-nation council tomorrow.

Truce Chief's Report

Bennike's report follows:

1. A U. S. request—backed by Britain and France—for a full-dress probe into border incidents between Israel and her neighbors, including the recent Kibya attack in which Jordan claims Israeli troops killed 66 persons and flattened the village. Israel say sthe attack was in retaliation for a series of killings by Arabs.

2. A Syrian complaint that Israel is endangering Middle East peace by diverting the waters of the historic River Jordan.

3. An Israeli counterdemand that the council take up a charge that the Arab states violated the 1949 armistice agreements, engaged in illegal blockade measures and refused to negotiate a peace.

Syrian Issue Sidetracked

The Syrian complaint had been expected to come up before the council today but it was sidetracked by the overshadowing Big Three call for a probe into the border incidents.

A Syrian spokesman emphasized however, that his country wants to keep its demand separate from the Big Three request. He said he hoped the council would take up the Jordan River issue Monday.

An Israeli spokesman said last night that the project did not involve any diversion of the Jordan's waters.

Pickens Trial Opens Before 3-Judge Panel

A panel of three judges began listening to testimony this morning in Common Pleas Court in the second-degree manslaughter trial of 22-year-old Willie Pickens of 505 Jefferson St.

The three-judge hearing was requested by Pickens through his attorney, Frank Wiedemann, after he waived his right to a jury trial. Judges hearing the case are W. T. Owen of Urbana, Leroy Allen of Marysville, and Paul D. Smith of Marion.

Pickens was indicted by the Marion County grand jury on the two counts of manslaughter following the July 19 deaths of H. W. Crissinger, 71, and Harry Mathias, 56, after a traffic collision of automobiles driven by Pickens and Dan Matthews, 33, all of Marion.

A third man, Harold B. Harper, 49, died Aug. 18 of injuries received in the accident.

Two Soviet Satellites End Three-Day Boycott, POW Explanations Still Stalled

JOYFUL NEWS AT MIDNIGHT. Van Buren Dickensen, 72, places an arm around his wife, Bessie, 44, at the home of a neighbor near Big Stone Gap, Va., after they received the news that their son, Cpl. Edward Dickensen (right), one of 23 American prisoners of war who originally chose to stay with the Communists, was being repatriated. The corporal was turned over to the Far East Command at his own request. A correspondent asked if more Americans might return. He answered, "More than likely."

Repatriation Commission Meeting Held

Believe Reds Repeat Demands in Fruitless Panmunjom Session

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The two Red satellite members of the Korean Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission ended a three-day walkout today but there was no indication they had won their point —that anti-Red Koreans be forced to hear Communists efforts to wheedle them home.

The explanations have been stalled since Monday when the Polish and Czech delegates left the commission after being voted down by the Indians, Swedes and Swiss.

Repeat Demands

In today's meeting they apparently repeated the demand without success and the explanations remained at a standstill.

The Communist delegates are forcing the point by disregarding the 14,600 Chinese who apparently will listen, insisting instead on talking with the 7,800 Koreans who refused with a show of belligerence.

The Red reluctance to meet the Chinese may grow from the stinging propaganda beating they took in the first two days of interviews —only 19 of 921 Chinese chose the road to communism.

After unsuccessful efforts by Indian guards to get the Koreans peacefully to the interviews the Red efforts were called off in stalemate.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the repatriation commission, said after Thursday's session that Indian troops are unable to produce the Koreans "at this time."

Will Resume Friday

However, the 2-hour, 25-minute meeting was not adjourned but was recessed until Friday, leading observers to speculate that some new line of argument may have been presented.

Before the meeting Thimayya said he would ask for an indefinite recess, but he declined comment on that point after the session.

The days without interviews are chopping time from the explanation period set by the armistice, which was Dec. 23 by Allied interpretation and Dec. 24 by the Indian view.

Mayor of New York Ruled Off Election Ballot

Too Many Invalid Signatures on His Petitions, Board Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has been ruled off the ballot for the Nov. 3 mayoral election because he failed to file enough valid signatures to his nominating petitions as an independent candidate.

Impellitteri has declined so far to say whether he will conduct a write-in campaign, the only course left to him if the continues efforts to win re-election.

State Supreme Court Justice William H. Munson ruled yesterday that the mayor's Experience party petitions contained no more than 5,276 valid signatures among the 24,187 filed. The law requires a minimum of 7,500.

Munson's decision denied any right of appeal to a higher court, because he said he considered the petitions so defective that an appeal would be "academic."

A spokesman for the Republican mayoral candidate, former Acting Postmaster Harold Reigelman, claimed that the barring of Impellitteri would help Riegelman.

City Council President Rudolph Halley, mayoral candidate of the Liberal and Independent parties and onetime chief counsel to the Kefauver Committee, contended the development would aid him.

There was no immediate comment—except that the ruling had been expected—from the camp of Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr., who beat Impellitteri for the Democratic nomination by almost 2 to 1 at the Sept. 15 primary. Wagner's supporters had estimated before yesterday's ruling that Wagner would get at least 40 per cent of the Impellitteri vote if the mayor were ruled off the ballot.

The Impellitteri petitions had been challenged by Democratic organization counsel for Wagner.

No Break Seen In Heat Wave, Dry Weather

An unseasonable heat wave continued throughout Ohio and various parts of the United States, temperature records were broken in almost every section of the country.

Yesterday's top reading here was 83, while the low for the night was 42. On the same date a year ago, the high was only 62 and the low was 24.

The weather bureau has forecast clear skies for tonight with the lowest temperature expected in the 50s.

There seems to be no rain in sight as yet as Friday is predicted to be mostly sunny, continued warm and dry.

Some rain fell yesterday over the Plain states from the Texas Panhadle to North Dakota, but has failed to move east, The Associated Press reported.

Only one tenth of an inch of rain has fallen in Marion in the last 31 days. On Oct. 5 rainfall recorded was .02 of an inch and on Oct. 6 the amount was .08 of an inch. Previous to that there had been no rain for two weeks.

Due to the shortage of rain, wells have gone dry in some towns and villages while water supplies in other places are reported to be low.

Industrialist Urges Russia, West Negotiate

Only Way to Lasting World Peace, Head Of National Steel Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corp., today called for Russia and the Western nations to open negotiations as the first step toward lasting world peace.

"There is only one device, one mechanism, through which we can make the move toward peace," said the head of the country's fifth largest steel firm.

"That device is the conference table—negotiation."

Talks to Chamber

In an address prepared for the 36th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, Weir said that by negotiation he did not mean appeasement.

"Negotiation does not mean appeasement any more than bargaining means that one party must settle on the other party's terms," he said. "There are some matters which the Western world will not compromise. It is to be expected that on some matters the Communist world will not compromise.

"In between these fixed positions there must be a large area of possible agreement. The most important thing initially would be to establish an atmosphere of agreement."

U. S. Has Responsibility

The steel executive said a large part of the responsibility for the present unsettled world situation is placed on the United States in the eyes of other nations.

"In the European view, the policy of the United States is the big stumbling block," Weir said. "This has aroused fear and resentment which have lowered the prestige of the United States, reduced confidence in its leadership and weakened the Western world."

Stevens Says Atomic Cannon Sent to Europe

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said today the new atomic cannon "will greatly enhance our defensive capabilities, which is why we have shipped some of them to Europe."

Stevens' remarks, in an address prepared for the National Guard convention here, had interest in light of a statement earlier this week by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

At a news conference in Washington Wilson was asked if the development of new weapons would make possible any substantial reduction in the number of American troops overseas.

His reply was he thought "it would in the long run." By that, Wilson said, he meant a "reasonable period of time."

Stevens said in his prepared discussion of the 280-millimeter cannon and other new weapons:

"Ultimately, as Army guided missiles are perfected, they too will aid in delivering fissionable materials (atomic explosives) or conventional explosives in close support of Army ground forces.

"The important thing is that we have the gun now, and can give our field commanders the capability of using atomic explosives safely and accurately in darkness or in any kind of weather, if it should become necessary to do so.

"The antiaircraft defenses of our great cities and industrial centers, prime targets for enemy atomic attack, have been materially strengthened in many ways, including the equipping of some battalions with the new electronically controlled skysweeper (a 75 millimeter gun)."

Ohio Congressman Narrowly Escapes Air Wreck Abroad

ATHENS, Greece, (AP) — Rep. Frank T. Bow (R—Ohio) and at least three other U. S. officials narrowly escaped a crash today when one engine of their Air Force C47 plane caught fire seconds after taking off from Hellenikon Airport. The pilot succeeded in landing the craft without mishap.

The two-engined plane was enroute to the quake-devastated Ionian Islands off Greece's west coast when the accident occurred. The pilot, Maj. William Grundmann of the U. S. air attache's office here, had lifted the craft only 100 feet off the ground when the engine stopped and burst into flames.

Besides Bow, the passengers included Jay Howe, a staff assistant to the House Appropriations Committee; Tom Judd, political officer of the American Embassy, and Col. William Odell, U. S. air attache.

Bow has been in Greece on an investigation of the State Department's foreign building operations.

Plans on Arms Aid to Europe In Final Stage

Ratification of EDC Treaty Expected To Be Completed Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans are about complete for funneling U.S. military aid to Western European countries through the projected European Defense Community as soon as it is ratified.

This was reported today by government officials who pictured Secretary of State Dulles and other top officials as confident that the long-stalled EDC treaty will be finally approved in the next three or four months.

Would Clear Way

That action would clear the way for rearming of West Germany, the only nation which has ratified it so far. Other signers are France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

State Department informants said a special agreement covering the delivery of American aid to EDC being worked out with a defense community preparatory commission at Paris, is substantially completed.

In general it follows the line of agreements required by Congress with all the individual countries receiving U. S. assistance.

Follows Basic Policy

In brief, the requirements are that the aid must be used to strengthen the free world, that there be adequate publicity as to the source, and that the aid not be transferred to other areas without U. S. approval. Technical provisions cover presence of American personnel in the areas where weapons and equipment are released and used.

Officials said the agreement has been negotiated in line with basic U. S. policy, as laid down by Congress in recent foreign aid bills, that U. S. aid may be given to international organizations where that is desirable.

Several Face Stiff Battles

Congressmen May Press Ike for Help in Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is likely to face mounting pressure from Republican office holders to abandon his political umbrella approach in favor of direct activity in next year's campaign for control of Congress.

In a sharp departure from the policies of his immediate predecessors, Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday he does not intend to make the presidency an agency for use in partisan elections.

To Stand on Program

Instead, he said he hopes to develop an enlightened and progressive program which will serve as a real umbrella under which his party's candidates can operate.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who is running next year, applauded the President's decision to attempt to "make a record we can brag about," as Mundt put it.

"I don't think that a President coming into your district to help you is any more effective than one who comes in to purge you," he said.

Mundt was alluding to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's unsuccessful efforts in 1938 to purge some Democratic Congress members.

While none of the handful of lawmakers here would comment publicly, there apparently are many Republicans who don't share Mundt's view that presidential tub-thumping is no help to individual candidates.

Michigan GOP leaders have sought and thus far failed to get Eisenhower's promise to do some campaigning in their state next year in behalf of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Faces Tough Battle

Ferguson may have a tough reelection battle on his hands if Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams decides to run for the Senate. Outnumbered by the Democrats 48-47, the Republicans can ill afford the loss of any Senate seats.

Eisenhower also has turned down appeals for intervention in behalf of Republican Paul J. Troast in the latter's current race for governor in New Jersey.

Eisenhower said specifically he won't lend a helping hand to Virginia Republicans who are trying to elect State Sen. Ted Dalton as governor.

GOP candidates who want to cash in on what they regard as Eisenhower's popularity are likely to keep on trying to get him actively into next year's campaign.

Schinagle Arraignment Scheduled Next Week

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Arraignment of 19-year-old Roy Schinagle, Jr., who faces a first degree murder charge, is not expected before next week.

The youth was served with a first degree murder indictment late Wednesday in his cell at the Wyandot County jail here. The county grand jury returned the indictment Tuesday.

Schinagle is charged with the brutal slaying of his coed sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil, 19, of White Plains, N. Y., whose body was found along a Wyandot County road on Sept. 17.

Greek Islands Rocked By New Earthquakes

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A series of strong earth tremors rocked the already quake-stricken islands in the Ionian Sea, in the Peloponnesus area and along Greece's west coast last night.

Strongest hit apparently was the Ionian island of Keffallinia, where scores lost their lives and hundreds were made homeless in a series of violent quakes last August. Some damage was reported but no loss of life.

33 Per Cent Hike Argued

Tax-Writers Differ Over Boost in Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Curtis (R-Neb) said today a scheduled 33 per cent increase in social security taxes seems necessary to carry on the vast program of death and retirement benefits.

Curtis is chairman of a special social security subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee. He plans hearings next month as part of a broad investigation of the present social security system.

His comment puts him at odds with Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), another influential member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, who said it would be wise to freeze social security taxes at their present levels.

Simpson noted that for many persons in low income groups the scheduled social security tax increase would more than offset a 10 per cent reduction in personal income taxes also set for Jan. 1.

President Eisenhower asked the 1953 session of Congress to cancel the scheduled social security tax boost. The lawmakers took no action on this, however, and the administration did not push the request.

Under present laws, the social security tax jumps automatically on Jan. 1 from 3 per cent to 4 per cent of a person's salary, up to $3,600 a year. Half of the tax is paid by the employe and half by the employer, so the individual

Halloweeners Rub Soap on Police Window

As the big day gets closer, Halloweeners are getting bolder. Last night they soaped up one of the police department's windows. There were seven other reports of Halloween activities last night.

At 782 Cheney Ave. Halloweeners threw a pop bottle through a window, and at 775 Merkel Ave. they stole a garbage can. No damage was listed in five reports of minor Halloween disturbances.

Yesterday police received two reports of Halloweening Tuesday night. A mailbox at the corner of Clinton and Jackson Sts. was damaged, and a car parked at 556 Courtland Ave. was completely soaped and its exhaust plugged up with leaves.

Six Pay for Prank

Six Marion city and county teenagers today were aware that some pre-Halloween pranks can backfire.

The Marion County sheriff's office reported that three 16-year-olds and three 17-year-olds were required to restore to their foundations three outhouses on a Marion County farm which they overturned Wednesday night.

200 FLEE FIRE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fire swept through the main building of the Presbyterian Home for Widows and Single Women yesterday, forcing 200 elderly women—some of them bedridden—to flee to safety. None was injured.

Congressional Election Will Test Reaction

Special California District Contest To Be Watched for Signs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Another important early test of voter reaction to the Eisenhower administration will be forthcoming Nov 10 when a special California congressional election is held in a Los Angeles district

The 24th Congressional District election is attracting a nationwide attention in view of the setback the Republicans got in a similar election in Wisconsin last week

Republicans are frankly worried and Democrats are hopeful as the campaigns in the California district buildup

GOP Gov Goodwin J Knight warned in Sacramento Tuesday that there is danger the Republicans may lose as they did in Wisconsin Oct 14 when Lester R Johnson won in a district that had never before elected a Democrat

That election Knight said was "a defeat and not an incident"

The special election in the California district was called to fill a vacancy created when Paul Poulson a Republican resigned from Congress to become mayor of Los Angeles He defeated former Mayor Fletcher Brown in an election

Two Republicans and two Democrats are campaigning for the seat in Congres

The 24th District is a typical big-city area It comprises a north-central area of Los Angeles city and the city of South Pasadena Most of the residents are average white collar and working-class people Campaign workers say only a small percentage of the district is considered 'silk stocking'

The balloting in this election should provide a poll of a fairly typical group of city voters while the Wisconsin vote was a test of a predominantly rural district

In California virtually all Republican organizations are throwing their support to Glenard P Lipscomb a state assemblyman and secretary of Vice President Richard Nixon s national campaign last year Lipscomb is a Los Angeles accountant The other Republican in the race is state legislator John L E Collier, Los Angeles businessman

Virtually all Democratic organizations are pulling for George L Arnold a young Los Angeles attorney He is the son of Thurman Arnold 'assistant attorney general under President Franklin D Roosevelt and son-in-law of columnist Drew Pearson. The other Democrat is Irving Markheim a veterans service officer

PLANS HIT SNAG. The comic book story of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer' provides a laugh for Chief Boatswain s Mate Vincent Paladino of New Rochelle N Y and his adopted son Kyon Soo Lee a Korean war orphan in Honolulu despite difficulties the bos n is encountering getting the boy into the U S He has a passport for the four-year old boy, but no visa Vince is staying with the boy in the immigration and naturalization detention quarters in Honolulu pending arrival of a visa from Korea

Life Insurance Agents Hear National Trustee

Mrs Elsie Doyle of Cincinnati a national association of Life Underwriters trustee addressed approximately 50 members of the Marion Association of Life Underwriters at their monthly luncheon at the new YMCA Wednesday

Speaking on Time and Tide' she pointed out the value of time in the life insurance business and how persons in the business could use it to better serve the community, their business, themselves and their families

Vets Study Farming Practices In Night Class at Chesterville

By M. DOYLE RUSK

CHESTERVILLE — Area veterans from Morrow, Delaware and Knox Counties have formed an institutional on the farm training course at the Chesterville School under the direction of Joe V Colville, who is serving his third year as a veteran agriculture instructor.

Eight veterans organized the class and to show they meant business each posted $75 in advance three months' tuition that will be returned by the government which sponsors the training school

The Korean veterans' class has been misnamed as any veteran having served in the armed forces since June 27 1950 is eligible to study in the night school to learn how to show increased profits on the farm and to help with the actual incomes

Each class member was given a special form known as the individual Veteran's Farm Survey, showing a preliminary farm plan and achievement record The form keeps a constant and periodic evaluation of accomplishments and progress of the veteran It also provides for the establishment of a system for recording predetermined and identifiable education and vocational goals Present practices, present conditions recommendations, new practices, and changes to new activities are shown on the young farmer's record which must show an improvement, or he is placed on probation

Time of schooling for the agriculture students depends upon the basic needs on the farm and length of service in the armed forces Married men with children receive $130 monthly as a supplementary pay and single men get $110, but must pay their own tuition The class meets twice weekly and holds two field days monthly They visit the Woos'er Experiment Farm Station and attend Morrow County Extension promotions and meetings

Half of the class members are single and half are married

Special interests in individual operations of farming are farms ranging from 150 to 600 acres of land, where grassland, grain and general practice type farming is carried on Livestock include dairy and beef cattle, swine, sheep, poultry and other sidelines Some of the veterans farm on halves, others on thirds and a few on their own farms

"When the veterans finish the course we hope they will have an income to live the way they want to live" said Mr Colville He was born on a farm near Utica in Licking County, served as a sergeant in the army in the Philippines, and taught grade and high school vocational agriculture after graduating from Ohio State University

"We are interested in ways to improve our soils" declared one of the students One veteran was seeking methods for pasture improvement and another wanted to improve his cattle to produce 500 pounds of butterfat instead of 400 pounds

Chief interest of the Chesterville veterans' class seemed to be the fact that vocational training would help keep veterans in our country's basic industry agriculture They cited a recent survey that showed less than 20 young married people on farms in one of Ohio's farming counties Most neighbors owning farms were past 65 years of age "Who will produce the food to feed an ever increasing population when the old folks are gone" they queried.

Wicks Should Tell More

The importance of the public statement by Arthur Wicks, Senate majority leader in New York State, that a man in his position either learns how to get favors from union czars or ceases to be a top-notch politician cannot be exaggerated

The immediate reaction in New York is to get rid of Sen. Wicks, who sought favors from Joseph Fay, a union executive serving time in Sing Sing for extortion. But that would settle nothing What happened to Wicks is a symptom, not a cause.

Currently in New York City and other Atlantic ports a paralyzing dock strike is being held off by an injunction because a union executive so corrupt he has been outlawed by the AFL is putting up a death struggle to retain a monopoly on cargo handling.

During World War II, Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman had to make deals with union executives from time to time to keep coal mines open, to keep the steel industry in production, to keep the shipping industry from being paralyzed and to avert work stoppages on railroads.

Presidents, governors, mayors and mediators have been doing as a matter of course for many years what Wicks did—seeking favors from labor leaders who had the power of life and death over the national economy and even over national defense

The only difference was that their labor leaders didn't always happen to be in jail But Fay wasn't always in jail, either. When he gets out and becomes respectable again, he will still be a man to reckon with.

Men like Fay can tie up work in atomic energy plants, airplane factories and communications They have the power to make decisions which can make or break the government of the United States, subject only to the tenuous restraint of the Labor-Management Act, which all union executives insist must be repealed

Congress should invite Sen. Wicks to tell more The story he is qualified to tell, now that he has broken the ice, has needed telling ever since John L. Lewis "bought" the federal government with a campaign contribution to the New Dealers in the now-distant thirties.

What Is a City?

Most of us when asked where we live reply with the name of a city. But when asked to describe it we frequently are at a loss for both facts and words. We don't know

It is obvious a city must be more than just people living close together; that it must be more than an arrangement of streets, buildings and factories tied together by proximity and use But we don't know how much more.

From this lack of knowledge comes much of the trouble that besets cities — their inability to plan for systematic growth, to avert the birth of slums and traffic congestion, to provide the revenue they must have for housekeeping and improvement

More Americans need to understand why cities influence their lives more than all the other units of political organization. They need to grasp the thinking of a speaker at the annual meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors who said that unless cities satisfy the psychological, physical and spiritual requirements of their existence, they can become "tombs and entanglements"

A city must make men feel proud of it, accommodate men's physical needs and feed men's spirit with opportunities for culture.

If a city were doing none of these things, its citizens could be pardoned for not being able to describe what it means to him But cities are doing these things and could do them better if all citizens were to try a little harder to understand their cities' needs

Heroes of Defense

A disaster like the explosion on the aircraft carrier Leyte while it was being overhauled in Boston is less dramatic than action against an enemy in wartime

But it can be just as costly in terms of both life and property

The men killed and wounded are heroes of defense as truly as if they had been killed and hurt by enemy bombs and shell They were at their posts of duty, serving in hazardous occupations for the protection of their countrymen

There are many military accidents each year which claim lives and inflict serious injuries without attracting attention, because it is taken for granted that military service is dangerous by its very nature. Members of the armed forces even have their troubles with automobile hazards, the same as everybody else

Regardless of the sources of their injuries while in service, they are to be honored for facing extraordinary risk in the performance of duty. The Leyte was theoretically safe—but no safer than any piece of massive military equipment ever can be made while packed with potential danger

Its crew has made a sacrifice to military [illegible] as truly as if their ship had been in action against an enemy and had lost three dozen men, with that many more badly wounded.

Erasing Smear

By David Lawrence

Congressional Hearings Hurt by Recriminations

When a man is smeared by a congressional committee, do the facts actually catch up and erase the smear?

This is a question often debated in Washington, and the best answer is that, if a man is considered innocent until proved guilty, the American public will hesitate to condemn a man on mere accusations and will await the final verdict.

Having stated the general attitude toward such cases, the question now arises whether the Americans for Democratic Action and the Senate Subcommittee on Elections, which did a "smear" job on Sen. McCarthy with innuendoes of guilt, will now undo the damage they both did and distribute as widely the latest official information which exonerates him from violation of any federal laws.

For the Department of Justice, through a letter written by Attorney General Brownell, now declares that the criminal divisions has reviewed the charges enumerated by a Senate subcommittee but on which the committee itself refused to pass judgment

The Senate subcommittee said only that it was transmitting the report to the attorney general "for such consideration as may be within the jurisdiction and the responsibility" of the Department of Justice

The attorney general now says he has examined the report to see if any federal offenses had been committed. He states

"The report fails to show the commission of any such offenses. The subcommittee spent a great deal of time, effort and money in its investigations made prior to the preparation of the report and there is no reason to believe that new evidence would be forthcoming from further investigation"

So the attorney general declares there is no reason to pass the data on to the grand jury. He adds that any other questions relating to income taxes would have to be passed upon by the Treasury Department.

Everybody knows that the Treasury under the Truman administration had access to the same facts about the Wisconsin senator's tax returns and found nothing on which to base any accusation.

It is logical to infer that the Treasury, which rarely discusses anybody's income-tax returns unless there is an irregularity involving fraud will consider the Truman administration's judgment to be final.

The attorney general took occasion also to write a letter disposing of charges of law violation in the Maryland senatorial election of 1950.

He declared that "All further lines of inquiry, as suggested by the report, have been exhaustively followed, and additional investigative leads pursued," and it is "our conclusion that the evidence fails to establish the commission of any public offense defined by federal statute"

How far will this exoneration get with the critics of Sen. McCarthy, especially those who have insisted in other cases that they believe in considering a man innocent of crime until proved guilty?

Perhaps some of them will argue that the Wisconsin senator has himself accused the other people through his legislative inquiries.

Despite all the furor about harm to innocent persons who have been accused of having Communist connections, not a single case has ever been proved against the Wisconsin senator of bringing anybody before his committee who had not in some way been mixed up with Communist organizations.

The extent of this association, however, when met with frankness by the witness has brought no public condemnation.

Those who have used the Fifth Amendment to refuse to testify or those in government service whose cases have been acted on adversely by loyalty review boards have been the object of criticism.

It must be noted also that in virtually every case, even those not dismissed, there was a basis for questioning Communist connections or sympathies, and these cases are usually not publicized at all.

Conceding, on the other hand that the Wisconsin senator may have made some mistakes in certain instances, two wrongs do not make a single right, and it will be interesting to see whether the distribution of many thousands of copies of charges against McCarthy by the Americans for Democratic Action will be followed now by the distribution by this organization of an equal number of copies of the letters of exoneration from the Department of Justice.

Maybe if this is done, it will have a salutary effect on all extremists and produce an era of better feeling on the subject of congressional inquiries.

If the harm done can be offset by proper corrective measures exonerating the innocent, there will be a greater concentration on getting at the really guilty.

(New York Herald Tribune)

No Worse Than Usual

By TRUMAN TWILL

Whenever the conversation turns to hoodlums and punks, which is often, I sit tight on my own little supposition and listen to the experts.

I have listened, man and boy, to a lot of experts and think they've missed the point of this vexing problem of what to do with the creeps who threaten to turn America's dream into a nightmare

All of them gravitate toward one big supposition, which is that society is doing something wrong or there wouldn't be so many horrible examples of what happens when human nature goes awry.

They never concede that human nature is immutable and therefore can be relied on century in and century out to produce about the same fixed percentage of bad actors If they'd concede this, I could get off my own little supposition

It consists of the idea that the reason hoodlums and punks seem to be threatening to drive decent people to cover is the ease with which they can get together in the 20th century

There are no more of them proportionately than there ever were. But they now have airplanes, automobiles, trains and all the paraphernalia of communication to help them cook up their plots against law, order and decency

A gangster in Los Angeles is no farther from a hoodlum in New York City than the nearest telephone. A rural punk with a passion for delinquency is no farther from his pals than a few minutes in an automobile.

Like the Communists, their secret is not in numbers but in cohesiveness.

Wherever these people exist and brew their devilry they have their hangouts, where they are sheltered and fawned on for their patronage They have, chiefly, the protection of big cities where they can move about freely in the presence of anonymous hordes of people

I was more of a job for Robin Hood to get together a handful of bandits in Sherwood Forest than it would be for a Luciano to assemble a nationwide syndicate of extortionists, terrorists, procurers, assassins and political puppets.

To some extent, the same facilities which make it easier for baddies to gang up also are used by goodies — but in nowhere near the same proportion Even law enforcers operate in hobbles, because [illegible] cause they cannot move against hoodlums without legal evidence of interstate connivance

There is no reason to believe that in a population of 160 million Americans there is any greater proportion of bad eggs than there used to be when the population was varying fractions of its present total.

It is only that the bad eggs now are easier to collect than they used to be — in collections massive enough to send up the dizzying stench which causes alarmists to conclude that civilization, itself, must be rotting from the inside out.

Things will get worse before they can get any better, unless there is some corresponding increase in the restraints which always have been necessary to keep bad 'uns from making life a nightmare for good 'uns.

There used to be a practice of shipping away black sheep to distant places where they could mingle with their own kind. Families used to keep locked in upstairs rooms some of the under - the-rock types which now molest children.

It will be a struggle to keep the worst side of human nature from gaining the ascendancy in our time But it always has been.

Extent of Atomic Radiation Variable

By Michael Amrine

Just how dangerous is atomic radiation?

The latest statement on the subject is attributed to an army captain, associated with the Sandia Special Weapons Base in New Mexico, presumed to be an atomic headquarters.

He is reported to have told a group of highway officials at their state convention "There is absolutely no danger from radiation 90 seconds after the bomb goes off," and said scientists have written off A-bomb radiation as a "serious killer."

There is no subject connected with atomic energy in which secrecy and the difficulty of the subject has created more confusion than the still-mysterious rays given off by the bomb and by the dust cloud ordinarily created by it.

The captain was probably misquoted, or his hearers misunderstood that he was talking only about one type of atomic radiation. The danger to human beings depends upon where the bomb is exploded, what kind of bomb it is, and upon several other factors, including the weather.

Last week's British atomic test in Australia was held up for a time while scientists waited for the right kind of weather, since they did not want the wind to carry the radioactive dust cloud over populated areas. The same thing has been done in Nevada, and the official requirements for the location of Bikini included the specification that the bomb had to be touched off 200 miles away from any inhabited area.

The captain was right only if he was referring to the instantaneous radiation—the gamma rays emitted at the instant of explosion, and for about one minute after. The lingering radiation, far more complicated, is another matter.

Even so, the instantaneous radiation at Hiroshima and Nagasaki is credited with causing 15 per cent of the casualties. This is hard to calculate, for it is also true that anyone in the open within a mile of the bomb is liable to be killed by blast or even burned badly enough to die of burns.

The radiation from an ordinary atomic bomb can be fatal at a mile, and 15 per cent of the casualties would be 15,000 people.

There would also be many injured, and a scientific study that should last for generations has been begun in Japan to follow the descendants of those so affected. One of the best-known geneticists in the world thinks that in a thousand years the still-born infants and maimed human beings born of parents descended from radiation-damaged ancestors in Japan will equal the casualties caused by blast and fire in the initial shock.

If the bomb is exploded high in the air, as in Japan and in some tests in Nevada, there is little danger of the earth being directly contaminated, but the dust cloud still is to be reckoned with. If the bomb is exploded at ground level—or if saboteurs were to bury one in the earth and then explode it by remote control—there would be vastly more lingering radiation.

If exploded in New York Harbor under the right conditions for an enemy's use, with wind to carry the radioactive steam over the city, it would be necessary to evacuate the city, and scientists would wager that this captain from Sandia base would go along with the crowd.

The atomic energy commission would not ask 100 weather stations in the U S to take readings of radioactivity and study them night and day after a bomb goes off in Nevada if the captain were right in his assertion that "you can walk into ground zero (the point directly under the bomb explosion) and live there the rest of your life" The AEC wants to know just what that dust cloud is doing.

You might walk in after an air-burst at a great enough height, but this is not true of a tower shot—the towers may be 20 feet high but that is still only the equivalent of a ground burst, for the fireball can be a third of a mile wide, and the earth in that area is seriously contaminated.

One is not even permitted to take away a bit of the fused sand, perhaps containing radioactive iron, from the tower. Carry it in your pocket as a lucky piece, and you may find it is very unlucky.

The hydrogen bomb is more powerful than the atomic bomb, and in addition puts more of its power proportionately into radiation.

Under present conditions of secrecy even the experts are confused —for, while Army people are being taught to speak thus bravely about radiation, the secretary of state is saying that shortly we will be able to end life on earth by this means

Even within the Army, an official report to the secretary of defense has urged that the public be educated to the dangers of radiological warfare, as a weapon in itself Present plans do not call for such public education

Public-opinion polls show that the average American exaggerates the dangers of radiation, and the Atomic Energy Commission therefore consistently tries to soft-pedal its dangers

Thus the facts are worse than the EC would indicate, but not so bad as the public thinks, and so long as secrecy continues even the secretary of defense can be confused.

'Woo Fare' in Tibet

By ANN COTTRELL FREE

The Chinese Communists are trying out a new idea in Tibet. They believe they have hit upon a new way of subduing a country and at the same time discovering a new job for Chinese WACs.

So, they are sending an undetermined number of Chinese women soldiers into the secret Himalayan kingdom on an "Operation Matrimony"

Getting the Chinese WACs to woo and win the Tibetan men may be an exceedingly smart move on the part of the Chinese Communists. They know that traditionally it is the married women who rule the roost in Tibet. Not only do women hold equal rights, but in many cases property rights and the purse strings, too.

The Chinese have not had an altogether easy time bringing the three million Tibetans into line—the Communist line — since they occupied the theocratic country in 1951. The Tibetans are resisting in various subtle, and sometimes overt ways, according to U.S. State Department officials

The dalai lama, once head of the Buddhist state religion and the state itself, appears to be cooperating on the surface with the Communists But no one in Washington believes he has knuckled under completely.

Since the estimated 25,000 soldiers of the Chinese occupation army are not having too easy a time of it, the Communists decided to call in the girls. In the last month, according to word received in Washington, Chinese WACs have been trudging over the dizzy mountain passes to their new assignment. Technically, they are part of the "culture corps" and trained in health and welfare work but their careers definitely are not to stand in the way of marriage

There is one big rub in this "Operation Matrimony" project: The Tibetan women

What do they think of it? For years competition has been something fierce between the husky, handsome Tibetan girls for a husband or husbands. They often have several husbands even though there is a shortage of marriageable males. The shortage is due to so many men — one - quarter of the male population — entering Buddhist lamaseries for life.

Now that the Chinese WACs have come husband - hunting among the Tibetans, competition will be keener — and there could be fireworks.

The Chinese Communists think they have a solution to this, too. They hope to increase the supply of men by dissuading Tibetan men from taking up a life of leisure in the lamaseries As a starter, they have put the lamas and monks to work. As a result, may be the lamas will choose marriage to Chinese WACs instead At least, that is what the Communists must [illegible] hope Otherwise the mighty Himalayas will be shaken to their foundations by a war among the women scorned.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Glorious Performance

Autumn is nature's answer to the summertime tant, "What can you do for an encore" It is a chant and a jazz song, a cotillion and a prayer, a polka and a cortege, a joy and a heartache. Autumn is the radiance of your mother's image as it came to you fully after she had gone.

It is the glowing memory of loved ones It is the check after the banquet, the memory of a pretty girl after the grand ball the creak of wagon wheels on an old road, a boyhood recollection of a bird dog pointing quail in the stubble.

Autumn is the light going out in a window, a phone ringing madly with no one on the other end when you answer. It is taps on a distant bugle, a cathedral at the end of a gypsy trail.

Autumn is a preview of a Christmas tree with the rainbow for a festoon, the harvest moon for a top piece and countless pumpkins as crystal balls.

It is a women upon whom too much mascara and costume jewelry isn't cheapening It is "the other side of the record," the farewell, the sad story, the epilogue, the plumes on the circus horses disappearing as the big parade fades out in the colorful dim distance.

The leaves fluttering across farm, street and alley play the recessional. In the scent of burning leaves is the odor of incense. The smoke lingers to form strange images, Indians who once roamed the framyard, the bearded head of a prophet, castles, galleons, buffalos charging across a plain, a horse and buggy trudging toward you as on a 3-D screen.

Autumn is your sweetheart still radiant but with the gray hairs showing, the beautiful closing chapter in a book that held you spellbound, the beach on an out tide, the empty decorated room after the big wedding, the long haunting cry of a southbound bird.

Autumn is the slamming of a door on a concert the splash at the bottom of the chute-the-chutes, the last sputtering of burned-out candles in a temple, the final notes of a melody you hate to hear die.

It is an old man in a Mardi Gras suit, an aging woman in carnival clothes, a weaver of entrancing tales falling asleep under a crazy quilt in a darkening garden.

Autumn is the cry of a gull across a flaming marsh, the heartache that comes with the last dance, the memory of fires dying in a fireplace after nights of gaiety. But the last leaf on the maple is a symbol of tenacity and faith. The rose that somehow, ah by a miracle, springs into bloom on the drying bush flashes a message of hope, resurrection and eternal life. In the serried sheaves of the cornfield is seen the Tented City of Wonderful Memories.

Autumn is God proving that the spectacle of June was a warmup, a prelude, a rehearsal and a demonstration of what He can do by way of miracles for all.

After a week's study all we can make of the recent Brooklyn Dodgers - Dressen incident is that if a man wants to get the works from the Brooklyn management the best way is to talk things over is with his wife. If she is in a hospital at the time, it makes his punishment all the more drastic.

In as dumb a piece of public relations work as ever occurred the Brooklyn management established one point: an example must be made of husbands who take wives into their confidence and accept their advice on their joint future.

The business office put before the country a picture of Charlie Dressen as Eliza fleeing across the ice with Little Eva pursued by bloodhounds. (What's the bid for the movie rights")

Possibilities Untapped

Ocean Almost Unlimited Reservoir of Edible Foods

By THOMAS R. HENRY

WASHINGTON (NANA) — The sea's "false bottoms" may constitute an enormous human food source for the future

This is the conclusion of Dr. Francis J. Weiss, food and nutrition consultant, in a report just published in the American Chemical Society's journal of agricultural and food chemistry.

These 'false bottoms' were discovered by the Navy during the war Sound echoes indicated sea bottoms where it was known that none existed These rose at dusk and sank at dawn. It now is generally accepted that they are due to enormous concentrations of some sort of marine life at depths of between 900 and 2,700 feet

One widely accepted theory, Dr Weiss points out, is that these organisms are Euphausiacea, small crustacea closely related to shrimps Surface species are an important food source for whales Square miles of the Antarctic are red with one variety. They could constitute a food of high nutritive value.

"THE DAY MAY COME," Dr Weiss predicts, "when large hoses will be put down from ships to pump water containing these organisms to the surface where the organic matter can be strained out The collection of small marine animals from the depths of the ocean may be greatly facilitated by another recent discovery That is that the sea animals, when exposed to an electric field, swim to the anode and are paralyzed by sufficiently strong currents

Sponges also, he believes, promise to be an important food source of the future A sponge is essentially a great colony of sedentary one-celled animals like protozoa It is considered, however, as a single animal

'Of the known 3 000 species of this animal," Dr. Weiss says, 'only thirteen are commercially used in the form of their fibrous skeletons which serve, due to their water-holding capacity, for bathing and mopping purposes In order to obtain the natural bath sponge the living sponge which resembles a slimy beef liver, must be killed and its proptoplasma allowed to decay. This so - called 'gutty' weighs about three times as much as the skeleton and is rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals

Considering an annual sponge production of 2 000,000 pounds, we can well imagine how much valuable organic matter is needlessly wasted"

THE SEA OFFERS many other unexploited food resources, some quite near the surface. Says Dr Weiss "the discovery of lobster grounds and red crab deposits extending over hundreds of square miles offshore from Cape Cod and the rapid development of a large crab industry along the Atlantic Coast are just two instances of immediate potentialities

The large clam or ocean quahog, resembles the ordinary herd clam except for its size — about that of a large hand. Buried in the muddy bottom of the sea, about 100 feet deep, it came into prominence only after the second world war and is now scraped off the ocean floor in large quantities It is converted, through highly mechanized processes, into nutritious foods and nothing remains unutilized What does not go into cans for human food is used as a valuable food supplement for farm animals

"Another valuable sea-food that is little known in this country, but which offers enormous potentialities for the future, is the sea mussel which forms large beds along the north Atlantic Coast. It can easily be harvested with present equipment and forms an excellent article of diet when steamed, fried or chowdered"

Wednesday Night Office Hours Slated By Family Service

The board of directors of the Family Service Society at their meeting Tuesday night, voted to extend agency office hours to 8 30 p m. on Wednesday evenings beginning Nov 4

The staff brought the proposal of office hours one evening a week to the board following a chartering of the number of requests for service from citizens whose hours of work did not permit use of the present office hours The agency has been maintaining Saturday morning office hours on a skeleton office staff basis. Study of use of this time indicated calls were infrequent and it was agreed that the office would close on Saturday mornings

This plan of one evening a week office hours and closing Saturday mornings is being inaugurated on a trial basis The staff has been asked to continue to observe and to chart the value of the evening office hours Calls for service coming to the agency on Saturday morning will be channeled to Mrs Doris Maxwell during this trial period The plan will be reviewed at the December board meeting

The board also voted to hold the November meeting, which is an organizational one, at the YMCA and to meet for dinner.

The board meeting was held in the office of the agency Judge E J. Ruzzo presided Others present were Ray Beverly, Mrs. Robert Fay, Norman Fogt Miss Vivian Hall Dr F. W Rea, Mrs B N Salzman, Rev Harrison L Ludwig, James C Sloan, Mrs John Waddell, Dr Robert E Weimer, Mrs Anne L. McCuen and Mrs Maxwell

Makers of Blotting Paper Sign Pact Not To Fix Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission said today six manufacturers of commercial blotting paper have signed a consent agreement that they will not seek to fix prices

The commission had accused the six, makers of about 90 per cent of all the blotting paper produced in the United States, of combining to restrict competition and to control terms of sales to paper merchants

The six firms in consenting to the order, specifically refrained from admitting or denying any acts in violation of the trade commission act

They are Joseph Parker Son Co New Haven Conn Wrenn Paper Co Middletown, Ohio, Rochester Paper Co Rochester Minn Albemarle Paper Mfg Co and Standard Paper Mfg Co, both of Richmond, Va ; and Mead Corp Dayton, Ohio.

Two Patients Hope for Sight In Cincinnati

Pair Eagerly Await Result of Operation Transplanting Eyes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two patients at St. Mary Hospital now can only wait—wait for bandages to be removed so they can learn whether they'll be able to see.

One of the two is Carl Johnson, 22, of Washington Court House. He has been blind since birth. The other is Wilbert Roll, 45, of Newport, Ky. He has been able to see but not clearly.

The two became the beneficiaries of the unusual will of Paul S. Port of Cincinnati, who died Sunday. He directed that his eyes be given to someone who could not see.

Operations transferring the eyes were performed Sunday but physicians said the results would not be known until the end of the week.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson of Cadiz, said: "I have waited for 22 years to see what people and the many things in life look like and I am not trying to figure these things out now."

Although he never has been able to see, Johnson is an enthusiastic sports fan. He said he learned to form mental impressions of baseball and football by having the games described to him while he was attending the school for the blind at Columbus.

"Being blind all my life, I have gotten accustomed to a way of living that will be much different from the life ahead of me. I am sure," he said. "I know I will have to make some drastic changes to get along in this new world I am about to enter."

Roll, a cafe operator, was born with scar tisue in both eyes but has been able to see although not clearly.

WEIGHTY ARGUMENT. Earl S. (Tiny) Goodwin, hefty taxicab driver of Providence, R. I., stands next to his cab. Tiny says that Philadelphia cabbie Leo P. Devine is a mere upstart in claiming the heavyweight cab crown. Goodwin tips the scales at 475 pounds and has a waist spread of 62 inches. His rival recorded 420 pounds and claims a 62-inch waist line.

Open House To Climax Anniversary at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION—The Lewis Shumakers, of west of Galion, lifelong residents of Galion and Polk Township, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary with open house, Sunday afternoon, at the Galion Eagles' Lodge room. They will receive friends and relatives between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m., there will be a buffet supper at the lodge room for their family, relatives and invited friends.

Mr. Shumaker and the former Bessie Gwinner were married Oct. 26, 1903. Rev. F. J. Danelear, Congregational minister, officiated for their marriage. The Shumakers went to housekeeping west of Galion, and have always lived in Polk Township. Mr. Shumaker is road supervisor of Polk Township, a position he has held for 25 years. He also has farmed, and for many years had a threshing outfit. Mrs. Shumaker is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the Ladies' Aid Society and Well Doers Sunday School class, and she belongs to the American Legion Auxiliary. Mr. Shumaker is a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The celebrants have eight children: Mrs. Ralph Kruger of Akron; Miss Alma Shumaker of Galion; Ralph Shumaker of Kent; Floyd Shumaker of Akron; Mrs. W. J. Kunkel of Lake Galion; Mrs. Frank Wilson of Galion; Eugene Shumaker of Galion; Mrs. A. R. Payne of west of Galion. There are 21 grandchildren.

Underworld Informer Says Breakin Was Legal

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—It was all perfectly legal, explained an underworld informer known to police as "Officer 6½."

Elmo Cherry, 30, being tried on a burglary charge, explained he was trying to get information on two companions when he broke into a department store.

Lt. Harry Stege said Cherry had provided him with information in the past, but he didn't authorize the break-in. Cherry said he has reformed since serving his last sentence for second degree burglary in 1950.

Baker Junior High Students Name Officers

Jed Middleton Elected President, Merchant Picked Vice President

School officers have been elected at Baker Junior High School after spirited political campaigning which lasted two weeks.

Elected to serve were Jed Middleton, president; Jim Merchant, vice president; Nancy Stumbo, secretary; and Pete Bailey, treasurer. Their respective campaign managers were Gary Sanders, Charlie Balthaser, Maureen Meister, and Dick Williams.

These officers, along with representatives chosen by each of the 16 homerooms, will comprise the Baker Student Council. The campaigns, sparked by political rallies, posters, tags, and hats, served as a lesson in democratic election procedures.

Nominating Petitions

To have their names placed on the primary ballot, prospective candidates were required to secure the signatures of eight per cent of the student body on nominating petitions. These petitions were checked and validated by members of the ninth grade citizenship class.

Then pupils went to their polling places to cast ballots in the primary election. Members of the citizenship class served on the boards of election. As a result of the primary, two candidates were named for each of the four offices.

The campaign was climaxed by a political rally in which Clark M. Fouts, principal, introduced the campaign managers to the student body. The managers, in turn, presented their cadidates who outlined their platforms. Later in the day students went to the polls for the final election.

Decisions Awaited

Awaiting the action of the Student Council are numerous matters resulting from the establishment of a new junior high school, along with more routine items of student government. Among the first to be given consideration will be the selection of a name for the school paper. Miss Helen May serves as faculty adviser to the Student Council.

Three Patrolmen Named To Galion Department

Special to The Star

GALION — The appointment of three extra patrolmen for the Galion police department was announced Wednesday, by Service Director J. A. Anker. The men are to work at such time as Police Chief Morris Bowers designates.

Those named for police service are William Amick, Theodore Freeman and David Corbin.

Meanwhile, the Civil Service Commission is holding an examination on Nov. 12 for a lieutenant in the police department, and for a fireman in the fire department.

APPEARS ON TELEVISION

GALION—A former resident of near Galion, Hugh Palmer, who now lives in Miami, Fla., appeared on the TV program "Flying With Godfrey," over WBNS, Columbus, Monday night. He told about his work with the Eastern Airlines, and gave a talk on the history of aviation. He formerly worked at the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. here, as a welder. He is a brother of Mrs. Allen Fry of Galion.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC

Sun rises at 6.51 a.m. and sets at 5 41 p.m.

CHARGES 'DISLOYALTY'. In his CBS office, Arthur Godfrey charges that disloyalty and ingratitude forced him to dismiss singer Julius LaRosa and bandleader Archie Bleyer from his radio-TV "family."

Taxes

rate would go up from 1½ to 2 per cent year.

The total increase could amount to roughly one billion dollars next year.

Curtis said in an interview: 'My own personal feeling is that the increase will have to go into effect. I think it is necessary to carry on the program."

Simpson's call for a freeze on the tax could be a forecast that the administration will revive its request next year. The tax could be lowered back to 1½ per cent on individuals even after it jumped automatically.

Addressing an Ohio Chamber of Commerce convention in Columbus today, Curtis said it might be a good idea for private industry to handle all social security.

"Possibly," he said, "the solution to the program is a system whereby private concerns handle the entire program. This would include private investment of funds paid in for social security but these investments would be guaranteed by the government in much the same manner as bank deposits are guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp."

Flemimng Speaks

Last night's major speaker, Arthur S. Flemming, director of defense mobilization, said no consideration ever will be placed ahead of this country's security.

He said not even economy would be put before defense.

". . . we must have a mobilization program of such magnitude and effectiveness as to either deter an aggressor or if we should be attacked enable us to fight and win," he said.

DENTAL STUDY CLUB MEETS

The program topic was "Orthodontic Indications and Treatment" when members of the Marion Dental Study Club held a recent dinner meeting at Hotel Harding. Dr. H. J. Bohrman presented the program topic, which was followed by a round table discussion. Dentists were present from Marion, Mt. Gilead, Cardington, Bucyrus, Richwood and Upper Sandusky.

Godfrey Tells Why He Fired His Star Singer

LaRosa Lost His 'Humility,' He Says; Other Friction Noted

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey says performers on his radio-TV shows must be nice house guests and "because I love to have them in my home I love to think you like to have them in your homes too."

With that comment during his television show last night, the freckle - faced star apparently wound up the furore caused by disclosures that he had suddenly fired singer Julius LaRosa and sharply cut the part bandleader Archie Bleyer has on Godfrey shows.

There was no immediate comment from CBS network officials whether a special check had been made to find out how many listeners tuned in to hear just what redhaired Godfrey might say.

The comment was made obliquely, as he introduced a number of the McGuire Sisters trio. Members of the Godfrey troupe were picked, he said, "because of that wonderful quality you see here."

Then he added:

"Those who are the great ones are the ones who stay with me."

Earlier yesterday at a press conference Godfrey, still on crutches from a hip operation, said LaRosa had been fired Monday while the show was on the air because the singer had lost his "humility."

Godfrey explained further that matters had been brought to a head by the singer's reluctance to attend dance rehearsals and because he had engaged a management firm to direct his personal affairs.

Bleyer's difficulties arose, said, Godfrey, because he made recordings of Don McNeill, a Godfrey air competitor, for a newly formed disc company in which the bandsman has a business interest.

Bleyer has been dropped from all the Godfrey shows except talent scouts.

Concerning LaRosa, Godfrey said a purported romance between the singer and Dorothy McGuire, member of the vocal trio, had nothing to do with his release.

The couple are "good friends and nothing else" said Godfrey and their relationship was "not a factor in this dismissal."

Halloween Parade Set For Oct. 29 at Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Final arrangements for the Halloween parade to be held here on the night of Oct. 29, are being made this week. American Legion Post No. 225 of Upper Sandusky, will sponsor the annual event, as in former years.

Prizes will be awarded in 14 divisions, as follows: most beautiful, most original, historical, Indian, clowns, witches, colored couples, colored families, largest lady, largest man, tramps, gypsies storybook or comic book character, non-classified. Cider and donuts will be furnished following the parade by the Legion.

Judges this year will be Miss Jean Wenner, Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, and Miss Janet Osborn. Master of ceremonies will be Rollin Caldwell. Robert C. Bolish is parade chairman.

U. S. farmers and ranches operate about 10,000 airplanes.

Returned Missionary Speaks on New Guinea

A talk about the education system in New Guinea, where he has been serving as a lay missionary, was given by Russel Sherer when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Emanuel Lutheran Church last week.

Sherer was introduced by his sister, Mrs. Lloyd Rehl, who had charge of the program. A question and answer period followed the talk.

Other highlights of the program included a vocal trio comprised of Mrs. Curtis Laubner, Mrs. Carl Hoffman and Mrs. Karl Dune, who sang "Psalm of Praise" and "Prayer of Mine." They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William Ackerman.

Opening devotions were by Mrs. Joe Porter, and Mrs. Frank Rehl, thankoffering chairman, conducted the responsive thankoffering service and ingathering of thankoffering boxes.

Sixty-four members and 23 guests were present. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Andrew Baldauf, Mrs. John Baldauf, Mrs. Charles Baldauf, Mrs. F. C. Norton, Mrs. George Goyer, Mrs. William Ackerman, Mrs. Elmer Bentley, Mrs. William Babbs and Mrs. Walter Dorsey.

Open House Held By Oakland PTA

Open house was observed when Oakland Heights PTA held its first meeting of the year at the school recently.

Herman Rinehart, president, conducted the business meeting, when several commitee reports were given and Mrs. Paul Rudolph was chosen vice president of the group. The group voted to purchase jersies for the school football team.

The president appointed the following members as committee chairmen: Mrs. Darrell Vermillion, program; Miss Ann Ferguson, music; Mrs. Harvey Woy, devotions; Mrs. Allan Sparrowhawk, hospitality; Mrs. Charles Augenstein, social; Mrs. Kenneth Emmons, publicity; Mrs. Stanton Culp; magazines; Mrs. Carl Ford, health; Mrs. Robert Todd, ways and means; Gerald Shultz, improvement; Mrs. James Morrison, study group; Mrs. P. E. Weaver, budget; and Leroy Everly, safety.

Mrs. Woy led the devotions. A piano solo was played by Miss Patricia Curl and Mrs. Vermillion introduced the school principal, Ray Silver, who in turn presented the faculty. Awards for the greatest number of parents present went to the classes of Mrs. Sarah Jones and Mrs. Catherine Moore.

Railroads estimate that when they change from steam to diesel power, the new diesel locomotives can pay for themselves in three to five years, by savings in fuel cost.

United Appeals Campaign Facts

Q. What is my fair share?

A. Only you can answer that. Just add up how much you'd give to each of the four organizations in United Appeals if it came to you at a different time of the year. Two dollars per organization? Five dollars? Also remember that you can pay on the installment plan. Most people want to give what is fair for their community's welfare services.

Delaware License Dispute Is Settled

Special to The Star

DELAWARE—A compromise in common pleas court here Wednesday settled the dispute over a driver's license case between Warren Thomas, handicapped Delaware auto salesman, and the state bureau of motor vehicles.

Thomas had appealed a decision of the state bureau which cancelled his driving permit and replaced it with a restricted license which would allow him to drive only cars equipped with automatic transmissions, outside directional lights and auxiliary steering devices.

The compromise was based on a driving test given Thomas about two weeks ago by state highway patrol examiners. He passed the test in a car without special driving equipment.

Thomas was arrested in February by the state highway patrol for speeding. The case was transferred from municipal court to the common pleas court after Thomas filed an affidavit of prejudice. Common pleas Judge O. W. Whitney found Thomas not guilty, but shortly afterwards Thomas was ordered to take a driving test by a patrol examiner.

Thomas, handicapped from birth by a shortened arm, has had only one minor accident in over 20 years of driving, according to testimony at his hearing.

FIRE CALL ANSWERED

The fire chief's car answered the only call received yesterday by the Marion Fire Department. Burning leaves in front of 495 Forest St. ignited a gas leak along the curb at 7:30 p.m. No damage was reported.

TRAIN RIDER FINED

A West Virginia man was arrested by Erie Railroad police at 8:33 a.m. yesterday for riding a freight train. He was Paul Houston, 28, of Charleston. He was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

What is the advantage to the American people when the impression is being given that every other country behaves properly but only the United States is wicked? If this sort of thing is done by some alien propaganda, it is understandable. In our era, it is still each nation for itself.

SOKOLSKY

In no other country does a large body of citizens indicate a subordination of their own country to another. In the United States, we suffer from pro-British, pro-French, pro-Russian, pro- any-place Americans to whom their own country is always second.

Nowadays, American citizens, and some of them in high places, when they discuss the movement of goods, like to make Americans feel ashamed, particularly those who, like myself, believe that a free market would be more beneficial than all the aid that we have thus far given away for nothing, but the free movement of goods must not be limited to the United States.

THE FACT IS that many of the countries which are most noisome in demanding not only a reduction of the American tariff but a revision of our customs procedures, are themselves engaged in blocking the international movement of goods and have, in some respects, established a blockade against our exports.

The worst method employed is the quota system. In Great Britain, West Germany, France, Japan and other countries, governments have established quotas of imports which destroy the free market.

Except for specified farm products, the United States admits any and all goods, but charges a custom tariff. The United States has no quota for imports.

In Great Britain, it is practically impossible to buy an American-made and assembled automobile, radio or TV set. Other commodities are limited to small, token quantities.

Another impediment to free trade is the licensing of imports. Great Britain, West Germany, France, Brazil and many other countries require licenses for imports.

THE LICENSING system is particularly evil because trade is used as a political weapon by the government. The people of these countries have no right to employ their own earnings to purchase whatever they may choose to use.

The United States does not employ a licensing system over imports. It is permissible to make purchases from abroad, provided a tariff is paid and the commodity will not impair the vegetation of our country or the health of our people.

Great Britain and France engage in preferential tariffs; that is, goods from countries within the British Empire or the Commonwealth are charged a reduced tariff in Great Britain; a similar procedure is followed by France with regard to French colonies. All preferential tariffs are aimed at the reduction of trade with the United States.

THE SITUATION, as regards West Germany, is particularly difficult to understand. That country has been, for a prolonged period, aided and supported by the United States. For a time, the United States was supposed to have a dominant voice in the affairs of West Germany. Nevertheless, under the West German licensing system, American goods are kept out of that country if the goods can be found anywhere else.

For instance, preference is shown Argentinian, Mexican and Egyptian cotton even when the American taxpayers' money is used to make the purchase.

American automobiles, radios, refrigerators and other commodities are never licensed.

The American automobile industry is not particularly concerned about this, as it has invested American capital abroad in factories, assembly plants, and in foreign companies, producing a locally-made commodity by cheaper foreign labor.

THE JUDGMENT of several companies and personalities in that industry is therefore unacceptable because their bias is that it is not only profitable to manufacture abroad but that it will one day be profitable to import foreign-made American cars into this country.

While such threats are today a menace to no one, it could happen that when the price of an American car manufactured in Detroit is too high, our market will absorb the same car made in a European country but which can be sold more cheaply here.

This story of the barriers set up against American goods in foreign markets needs to be thoroughly investigated and the results should be made public.

Today many European countries are conducting a propaganda against the American tariff and our customs procedures. They do not look at their own quotas, licenses and tariffs, which are even more destructive of a free market.

Pythian Sisters Meet in Morral

226 Register for District Convention

The Morral Pythian Sisters were hostess recently to the 54th District Eight convention of Pythian Sisters.

A total of 226 registered for the afternoon program. Mrs. Ruthella Snyder, district grand chief, presided. Presentation of the flag was made by Mrs. Donna Ruth Shafer of Morral. A fancy drill session was presented by the Morral team after which Mrs. Marietta Heller, grand chief of Ohio, was presented.

Invocation was by Mrs. Ruth Thomas of Prospect. Mrs. Virginia Graham sang and Mrs. Jeannette Thomas of Bellpoint gave the welcoming address. Mrs. Pearl Hummell of Cleveland gave the response.

Greetings from the host lodge were given by Mrs. Avonelle Watts and guests were introduced. The Xenia Temple was in charge of a memorial service. Mrs. Mildred Fiechter of Morral was convention pianist.

A 6 o'clock dinner was served by the Morral firemen. Guests at the evening program included past officers of lodges in the district and several past district officers. They included Mrs. Ella Leland of the Medina Home who has been a past chief for 51 years.

Mrs. Heller addressed the session and told of her project at the home. Her motto for the year is 'true friendship.' She received a silver offering from the district to aid her in the home project.

Committee reports were heard and an invitation was extended by the Prospect Lodge for the 1954 convention.

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD—At a recent meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary to Baccarat Post No. 40, a report of the Sixth district fall conference held in Marion was given by Mrs. Zita Griffith.

Mrs. Gladys Beckley presided and reported clothing and bedding had been given a needy family. The president also reported a citation award had been received for membership during 1953, ranking the auxiliary the third highest in the district.

It was voted to send Christmas gifts to the sons and daughters of the Legion and auxiliary members who are serving in the armed forces. Plans were made to serve an Armistice Day covered dish supper Sunday, Nov. 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Home, in honor of the members of Baccarat Post No. 40. Three new members were accepted.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

DETROIT

There are men close to Walter Reuther who now know as much about horses as they do about automobiles.

RIESEL

These are the men the CIO president has assigned to track down, expose the crime syndicate chiefs, the Mafia mobs and their squads inside the huge auto and aircraft plants, where the CIO's rank and file have been losing as much as an estimated $10,000,000 a year in crooked gambling.

Reuther's personal executive assistant, Jack Conway, has called on famous "private eyes" and even Burt Turkus, the former Brooklyn nemesis of Murder, Inc., racket-buster and raconteur, to help smash the mob.

Result is that the Auto Union's own anti-crime bureau now has collected more data about racing, numbers rackets, baseball, football and basketball pools, floating dice games, stuss (craps) houses, shylocking, pigeon drop rackets and even three-card monte operations, than most private agencies anywhere.

THEY KNOW that virtually every larger industrial plant in the nation has been infiltrated by the mobs — and they want to keep their union clean. They may not be able to beat the odds on protecting their followers, but new "anti-racketeering education program" shows that a fight CAN be made.

That's something in this day of multi-million dollar shakedowns. As Conway put it to Burt Turkus recently:

"Our union has a reputation of being a clean, racketeer-free organization, and we do not intend to relax our vigilance.

"Any help which you can render to us on this request for information will contribute toward this effort and will benefit not only our membership but the community as a whole as well."

The United Auto Workers launched this program some months ago, after discovering that the mobs had successfully set up drop stations (betting centers) and had planted their own goons in and around the big factories as "passout men" (they carry the bets out of the plant), crappers (they hustle men into crap games) and three-card monte operations.

ONE THREE-CARD monte outfit actually opened up shop close to an armored car out of which a check-cashing service operated. The union men would take their pay checks to the car to be cashed on the way home, and then be enticed into a crooked game atop a nearby auto.

Unable to stop gambling any other way, the union decided to expose each ring as crooked — and prove that the suckers never get an even break.

At first Reuther was going to publish a pamphlet to tell this to his million followers. Then the study grew so vast that the union leaders decided to develop a national educational campaign.

They learned, for example, that the crooked numbers racket mulcted $56,000,000 from Michigan workers alone.

The numbers game leads in dollar take because it is the most popular. It is followed in size by horses, football and baseball pools, and shylocking.

THE NUMBERS racket heads the list in Cleveland and in Akron's rubber plants. Buffalo follows a similar pattern, but the football pools, the unionists discovered, are proportionately larger there than elsewhere.

The numbers are biggest in Pittsburgh, where a bet can be placed almost anywhere — in a steelplant, a movie, or at a corner newsstand.

They found Chicago a difficult city to probe, but came up with the conclusion that the horses were bigger than the numbers in the Windy City.

Across country, in San Francisco, they found less in-plant gambling than in any other major city —but believe it to be a "lottery town."

When the study is finished, the odds will be known for every racket in every town — and will be posted in every United Auto Union plant.

IN ADDITION to proving that each player is a sucker, the union members will be told in printed form as well as over radio and on television:

"What every union man must realize is that whenever he plays the horses through a bookie, he directly contributes financially to the entrenched criminal syndicates, adds to their power, and contributes to the syndicates' efforts to corrupt and demoralize public officials and sometimes even the workers' own union committeeman or other officers."

This is bound to touch off an upheaval inside labor, since there are many AFL officials who own up to 6,000 shares in Eastern and Midwestern race tracks.

It will put them in the position of mulcting the working people they're elected to lead. The CIO Auto Workers Union is the first labor outfit to expose the rackets.

It thus proves that any union which permits itself to be used—now does so knowingly and willingly.

1954 Upper Mayor To Receive $1,800

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—The Upper Sandusky city council, has voted to make the mayor's permanent salary here $1,800 annually. This is in accordance with the new legislation passed recently to have a fixed salary for the mayor.

This is the same amount Carey plans to pay its mayor next year. Under the new state legislation the costs and fees will go to the village and the fines assessed will be split evenly between the state and village. The new state legislation and the local ordinance becomes effective in January.

New signs will be erected at all main entrances to the village, which should be effective in cutting the noise caused by trucks.

New fire extinguishers were ordered for city cars and trucks, cutting of decayed trees was approved and action was taken to eliminate the danger from an uncovered well.

Vote Getter

By Inez Robb

The Republicans are doing a lot of soul searching these days in the public prints and out loud on radio and TV. Ever since a Democrat on an out-of-season congressional election recently in a heretofore Republican stronghold in Wisconsin, the GOP has been reaching for its boot straps and guide book.

INEZ ROBB

Always willing to lend a helping hand in time of stress, I would like to offer a pair of concrete suggestions to the party in power in the matter of winning friends and influencing farmers, for example.

-:-

MY LEAD-OFF proposal is that President Eisenhower name Mrs. Bobo Rockefeller as secretary of the treasury and—or secretary of agriculture. Any little woman who can start from scratch and small potatoes and wind up with a minimum divorce settlement of $5,500,000 is a shoo-in for either job.

What Bobo has that the present incumbents, George Humphrey, treasury, and Ezra Taft Benson, agriculture, haven't got is plenty.

Any girl who can balance her own budget so splendidly deserves at least one free shot at balancing the national budget, too.

It must be obvious even to those who have to add on their fingers, as I do, that young Mrs. Rockefeller from a standing start has just obtained 190 per cent of parity or 100 per cent more than the farmer can expect from the government.

OF COURSE, Bobo is dealing directly with a Rockefeller rather than a Republican administration, and there is a slight cash difference on the turn-in value.

In the face of demonstrably superior talent, let the Messrs. Humphry and Benson make way for Bobo. Put a financier like Mrs. Rockefeller in the cabinet, and it will do more to pacify the farmer than $3.98 wheat and a shiny new red tractor.

My second suggestion is equally as practical. Bonanza bills and lucky bucks showered on the public by two New York newspapers are making the papers as popular as Santa Claus in Fort Knox.

Now it is obvious that the Republicans, even to win friends, can not start giving away baskets of free money with every pound of tea. But the GOP could let the public in on the bonanza bills and lucky bucks in a very simple way and without cost to itself or the public.

IT COULD announce the names and addresses of two men and one woman who, in 1950, each had gross incomes of more than $5,000,000. The Internal Revenue Service recently disclosed that all three were not only solid gold but single.

However, the service in its stolid way, refused to make public the names of any or all. If the Republicans would only organize a national Sadie Hawkins Day under GOP auspices, with the platinum-plated lady and the two gents as top prizes catch as catch can, of course, and no holds barred, it would undoubtedly be the most popular gesture ever made by a political party.

TO PITCH this trio into the public domain would constitute a share-the-wealth plan to which only the most stuffy members of the party could object. Such a plan would be better than a license to steal for at least the one gent and the two ladies who won the sweepstakes.

In fact, it would even benefit the lady and gentlemen now so heavily taxed in their single-blessedness. A marriage license in any community property state constitutes permission to split the dividends both ways and save in the middle.

Such a give-away would make the GOP more popular than bingo and validate its 1952 plank endorsing the American home by adding three more to the national roster.

Church Begins New Building At Prospect

Construction of a $45,000 brick educational unit for St Paul Lutheran Church as Prospect is to get under way this week The 45x63-foot structure is to stand at the east and north of the church

Additional classrooms for the growing Sunday School will be provided by the new building, and in addition there will be a pastor's study, assembly room, and kitchen facilities

A groundbreaking program Sunday followed morning worship with the choirs, pastor, Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, building committee members, and congregation forming a procession to the location of the ceremonies Appropriate Scripture was read by Weldon McNeal, building committee charman, and prayer was by the pastor, followed by responsive reading by the congregation and pastor The Senior Choir sang "Lo, We Tread on Holy Ground " Concluding the service was the Lord's Prayer, benediction, and doxology

Removal of two trees on the lawn to make way for the new building was done Monday.

Special observance at the worship service of the church next Sunday morning will be of the Reformation Festival The sermon will be on 'Cherish Your Heritage' ' Monday night, the Church Council will meet

Eight Charges Returned by Crawford Jury

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—The Crawford County grand jury concluded a three-day session here Wednesday night by returning eight true bills one sub-rosa indictment and declining to return indictments against 10 other persons

Prosecutor John D Sears Jr. said the jury heard testimony from 29 witnesses and made an inspection of the county jail, which they found, to be in excellent condition, commending Sheriff Elwood F. Jacobs and Mrs Jacobs, matron, for the jail's appearance

Indictments, returned by the jury, included Norman Eshelman 22, Marion, and Ernest Lee Thomas 21, Crestline, operating motor vehicle without owner s consent, Hugh Crouse, 25, of near Tiro, leaving scene of accident and reckless driving William M Smith Galion, and Dale A Grasley Bucyrus, non-support Roscoe Jackson and Edward J Hodge, 53 both of Crestline, cutting with intent to wound Roy Johnson, 38, Wyandot, grand larceny.

No indictments were returned by the jury against the following persons who had been bound over to the jury Clark W. Carr of near Bucyrus non-support and abandonment; E H Hill, 31 Galion issuing a check with insufficient funds, Mike Hanzas, Bucyrus grand larceny, Albert E. Amick of near Galion, Robert W Christman Mansfield, and Richard McClenathan, Bucyrus, non-support; Samuel B Scribner, 35, Galion, taking indecent liberties with female child; Donald E. Nickelson, 24, and Russell G Walker, 23, both of near Bucyrus, auto larceny, and Clyde B Woods, 35, Galion, rape

Lloyd L Adams of Bucyrus was jury foreman Other jurors included Mrs Cleo Gebhardt, Mrs Josephine Zincke, Miss Mary G F Beer, Gale H Feglev Marvin E Linn and Martha McMichael all of Bucyrus and vicinity Edward Krichbaum R D 1 Crestline Arlene V Bechtel and W. HEADS SCHOOL SURVEY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio School Survey Committee, at its organizational meeting yesterday, elected Rep William Manahan (R—Defiance) chairman Sen Charles A Mosher (R—Oberlin) vice chairman and Sen Raymond Hildebrand (R—Toledo) secretary The group is to make a comprehensive study of Ohio public schools It was established by the recent Legislature

Community School Association Names Prexy at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — M L Ransom of Lykens was elected president of the Crawford County branch of the Ohio Community School Association at the annual reorganization meeting here Tuesday night C R Snyder of Whetstone is the retiring president

Other officers are vice president, H G McMichael, secretary, Mrs R C Geissman, Chatfield and treasurer, Mrs G A Stevens, Galion

While the group took no official action on the proposed amendment to the Ohio constitution, which would provide for a state board of education and a superintendent of public instruction several leaders expressed opposition to the proposal Pearson L Linn a member of the county board of education and state public information director for the organization, charged that the proposal was a "pig in a poke" and that passage of the measure would lead to "further state control of education"

Guest speaker was Miss Fae Burr, a Cardington High School teacher Her subject was 'The Unmentioned Advantages of the Smaller Rural High Schools' Miss Burr explained that pupils are given more individual attention in smaller schools because the classes are smaller

The organization was formed last year with an announced purpose of "retaining control of schools at local levels"

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a highly selective performance today with the main body of securities holding steady.

Some of the best gains went to between 1 and 2 points. No loss amounted to as much as a point in key areas.

Among the most pronounced gains of individual stocks were those in oils, rubbers, aircrafts, and electronics.

Railroads were slightly depressed as were chemicals. Otherwise the market was narrowly mixed or steady.

Higher with a show of activity were Union Oil of California, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Goodrich, and Boeing. Also higher were General Electric, International Paper, Pepsi-Cola, General Motors, and Goodyear. Lower were Douglas Aircraft, Air Reduction, American Woolen, and Pennsylvania railroad.

Marion Traffic Accidents Hurt Three Persons

Woman Injured When Struck by Hit-Skip Car; One Hospitalized

A hit-and-run victim was one of three persons injured in five accidents investigated by Marion police yesterday. The state highway patrol reported it investigated no accidents in the Marion district during the past 24 hours.

Elizabeth Titus, of 130½ S. Main St., was injured when hit by a hit-skip driver as she crossed the intersection of E. Center and Greenwood Sts. She was taken to Marion City Hospital.

Two persons were injured in a collision between a taxi and a car at the intersection of N. State and E. Farming Sts. at 10.45 last night

The driver of the taxi, Donald J. Gornell, 29, of LaRue, received a cut on the left leg below the knee. Mrs. Nelson Peacock of 370 N. Greenwood St., was admitted to City Hospital this morning for possible fractures resulting from the accident. She was a passenger in the other car, driven by Lois Williams, 30, of 364 N. Greenwood St.

The collision occurred as Gorrell was eastbound on E. Farming St. Both cars were damaged.

Cars driven by William Parmer, 27, of 782 York St., and Murray Carpenter, 29, of 685 May St., received minor damage in a collision on Silver St. near the C & O crossing at 4:50 p.m. yesterday. Both vehicles were westbound when Carpenter hit the rear of Parmer's car.

Taxi Damaged

Another taxi, driven by Marvin T. Gaither, 36, of 275 Chestnut St., received minor damage to its left rear fender when it was struck by a car driven by Marion R. Barkley, 27, of near Marion. The accident occurred at 4:38 p.m. yesterday on S. Main St

An accident at 316 E. Farming St. at 8.31 a.m. yesterday resulted in minor damage to cars driven by Ralph L. Rush, 39, of 322 Fies Ave., and Mary A. Cleary, 53, of 216 E. Farming St.

MARION STUDENT PLEDGED

Miss Celia Irey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Irey of 848 E. Center St., has been pledged by Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority at Miami University. Miss Irey, a 1953 graduate of Harding High School is a freshman at the Oxford school. She was elected to the National Honor Society while attending Harding.

WANTED MAN ARRESTED

Apprehension of a man wanted by Logan County authorities on an "insufficient funds" indictment was reported by the Marion County sheriff's office.

Jabel Breaston, 31, was arrested Wednesday night by sheriff's deputies at 474 Decatur St. Logan County authorities are expected to pick him up some time today.

In 1953, Finland's ship building industry had six times the capacity of 1944

Marion Student Is Queen Candidate

A Marion girl, Joyce Lister, is one of two candidates for Homecoming Queen at Taylor University at Upland, Ind., for the Taylor-Earlham football game Saturday.

Election will be held this week. The queen will be crowned at a pep rally Friday night.

Miss Lister, a 1950 graduate of Harding High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Lister of 329 Carner Ave. She is a junior at Taylor and is majoring in elementary education there.

As a sophomore at Taylor, Miss Lister was a cheerleader and was also in the Homecoming Queen's court. At Taylor she is active in Philo literary society, Chi Sigma Phi, Gamma Delta Beta, Women's Athletic Association and Future Teachers of America. She participated in band and orchestra at Harding

Halloween Event Set in Caledonia

Plans are under way for the annual Halloween festival and carnival to be held in the new school at Caledonia on Friday night, Oct. 30. The program is being sponsored by the Caledonia Community Club.

The event has developed into a community party for every member of the family, according to Eugene E. Foos, president of the Community Club. Prizes will be awarded for winners in contests and games and in each division of the costume competition. Merchants of various communities served by the Caledonia school have contributed and many prizes will be awarded.

Proceeds from the festival will go toward school and other community activities.

Other officers of the club are Henry Ulsh, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Parry, secretary and Mrs Mary Axthelm, treasurer. Special committees have been appointed and will be published as soon as they are released by the president.

WHY SPEND SO MUCH MONEY ON FOOD?

Drink it! Wonderful, fresh flavor. Gives you same amount of B vitamins, proteins, calcium, and other milk minerals as top-quality milk. Starlac is milk minus the fat and water.

Cook with it! Enjoy smooth, rich-tasting puddings and custards with Starlac. Use it to cream vegetables. Serve your family tempting, nourishing soups and chowders made with Starlac.

Bake with it! Use Starlac for your favorite cake. Bake tender muffins, light biscuits, crisp cookies. Use it in "made with milk" recipes. Keep a quart in the refrigerator at all times.

WHY STARLAC IS

3 ways better!

because Starlac is guaranteed by Borden to be top-quality, pasteurized milk (minus water and fat) from tested herds only.

because it is protein-protected by exclusive Borden process and tested for quality 24 times.

because its dairy-sweet flavor is protected from light and moisture by a light-tight, moisture-proof package.

More women buy STARLAC than all other brands combined!

Wayne Settles, Wife Is Happy

Property Agreement Calms Divorce Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Only John Wayne's angry desire to have his own day in court stood today as a possible threat to a peaceful end to his divorce trial, already one of the nastiest in movie history.

A surprise property settlement brought big smiles to the face of his Mexican wife, the former Esperanza Baur. Its size was not disclosed, by court request, but apparently it was enough to make her change her mind about a separate maintenance plea.

Both she and her attorney said they were "very happy" with the abrupt settlement. It came late yesterday after a series of lengthy conferences between both camps, with Suprior Judge Allan Ashburn acting as peacemaker.

The case will be resumed next Wednesday, allowing both parties time to iron out settlement details.

It is estimated that Americans spend about 10 billion dollars a year on travel.

Police Lieutenant Back in Seclusion After Questioning

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police Lt. Louis Shoulders returned to seclusion today after a seven-hour question-answer session with his superiors as the key witness in the investigation of possible irregularities in police handling of the Greenlease kidnap-slaying.

It was Shoulders who arrested Carl Austin Hall, the confessed kidnap-killer of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, on Oct. 6 and recovered about $293,000 in ransom cash.

It is the particulars of Hall's arrest and the handling of the ransom money that is under investigation. Half of the $600,000 ransom is unaccounted for.

Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell told newsmen the investigators may recall Shoulders for further questioning but not today.

Shoulders ducked past newsmen after testifying yesterday and rode a private elevator to the ground floor of police headquarters. His appearance came as a surprise. He had been excused through the first two days of testimony because of a nervous condition.

O'Connell declined to comment one way or another on the results of Shoulders' testimony. "I am sure we will have a statement to make when the entire investigation is completed," he said.

Ashley Teacher Honored Following PTA Session

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—Mrs. Gwendolen McDowell, who is retiring from a 27-year teaching career, was honored following the regular business session of the Ashley PTA Monday night.

The program was in the form of "This Is Your Life" with Mrs. David Wertz acting as mistress of ceremonies. Those connected with events in Mrs. McDowell's life and seated on the stage with her were Superintendent and Mrs. R. B. Warner, S. C. Powers and Mrs. Merlin Reid, teachers, Mrs. Lelah Stephens, president of the Ruth Sisters Circle, Mrs. V. S. Westbrook of the Ashley Book Club, Mrs. Pearl Dennis of the Traveling Grandmothers, Mrs. Beryl Doubikin, representing the students. Each spoke and presented her with a gift.

Mrs. Arthur Hultz, president, appointed Mrs. Ed Augsburger, Mrs. S. C. Powers and Mrs. John Sticklen to a committee to revise the by-laws. Mrs. Brating, Delaware County health nurse, spoke, urging the passage of the half-mill levy which provides for another county nurse.

5 May Be Held For Contempt In Ohio Probe

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Five witnesses who refused to answer nearly all the key questions tossed at them by the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission may be indicted for contempt, the commission chairman said.

Sam Devine, the chairman, said a decision will be reached on the contempt charges when testimony taken at yesterday's hearing is reviewed two weeks from now.

State Sen. Wilbur L. Shull of Franklin County, a commission member, expressed a belief a recent ruling by a judge in his county would support contempt proceedings. That judge held persons interrogated by the commission could not take refuge in the Fifth Amendment which provides no one need testify against himself in a criminal case. The judge said that a state law protects witnesses again any criminal charges being filed on the basis of testimony before the commission.

The five witnesses quizzed here yesterday were LaVernne Slagel, and Mrs Eula Ann Cooper, both of Massillon, and Paul Bohus, Mrs Rose Maldjan and Mrs. Olga Perry all of Canton.

Heart Trouble Declines During War, Doctor Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Swedish doctor says heart disease declined sharply in his country during the anxious years of World War 1.

A similar de rease in frequency of heart trouble and peptic ulcer was reported in England for the same period, Dr. Harold Eliasch told the 23rd annual Symposium on Heart Disease yesterday.

"We don't know the answer unless during war we are too busy scrambling to save our lives and our freedom to indulge in the luxury of failing health," Eliasch told 70 specialists.

Court Clears Way For Sandusky Plan To Annex 130 Acres

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has cleared the way for the City of Sandusky to annex about 130 acres of Cedar Point Peninsula.

High court judges yesterday refused to disturb a permanent injunction granted by an Erie County appellate court against a referendum vote on the annexation taken by Sandusky City Commission Nov 24, 1952.

The following month a referendum petition bearing 847 names was filed. The election board held the petition sufficient for a referendum because 670 signatures were valid.

Bernhardt Z. Zeiher sought to block the referendum but common pleas court denied him an injunction. An appellate court later granted a permanent injunction and the board appealed to the high court.

The Supreme Court let stand a Lawrence County court decision that went against Thelma G Mittendorf and other Ironton residents who fought to avoid paying assessments for city improvements benefiting their property.

Lower courts said the property owners should have protested on receiving notice of assessments, not after the city had spent some $200,000 making improvements.

Akron Man Fails To Pay Gambling Tax, Is Caught

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Forrest R Stout, arrested by Treasury Department agents, pleaded innocent yesterday when arraigned before U S. Commissioner William J. Laub on a charge of "willfull failure to pay federal gambling excise tax."

Stout, 31, was freed on $1,500 bond and will have a hearing Nov. 2

Earlier he was charged in municipal court with operating a lottery He demanded a jury trial and was freed on $2,000 bond.

U.S. Defense vs. Balanced Budget

Administration Facing Tough Choice

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey made a 3,000-word speech about the national economy last Tuesday in San Francisco. But he danced very gingerly around one of the most important questions facing the Eisenhower administration in 1954 will it be able to balance the budget next year?

Yesterday Humphrey's deputy, W. Randolph Burgess, was asked the question point-blank after a talk with representatives of business publications. Burgess replied that he could not say because "this goes back to what is done in the Defense Department."

In the next couple of months President Eisenhower faces decisions which, in the long run, may be as critical as any he has made.

Two of the most important concern government spending, which involves balancing the budget or trying to, and national defense. For weeks government bureaus and departments have been at work on the budget which Eisenhower will offer Congress next January.

The items which go into the budget must be checked over by department heads and the bureau concerned, reduced where possible by the Budget Bureau under director Joseph M. Dodge, finally approved by Eisenhower, and then printed in volumes as big as a metropolitan telephone directory. This work won't be finished before the end of 1953.

If it were not for the huge sums needed in the defense program, the Eisenhower administration would have little trouble next year balancing the budget. Defense spending is far and away the biggest item in the budget, so whether Eisenhower balances it or not depends mostly on how much defense spending can be cut in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Humphrey on Tuesday and Secretary of Defense Wilson on Monday talked in a way that indicated the administration is thinking about defense and defense spending in terms like this.

Because of atomic and hydrogen development, and the new kinds of weapons resulting from it, new thinking is necessary about new kinds of defense, which may mean less reliance on foot soldiers and ground weapons like tanks, and more on planes and perhaps guided missiles which can defend this country and Western Europe or retaliate quickly against any attacker.

It is possible that out of such a changing concept the administration might be able, or think it is able, to provide more defense for less money. Cutting down on spending for security would bring a balanced budget closer.

It is at this point that Eisenhower carries his enormous responsible—not only for the national economy, but also for the future welfare of the United States and the whole Western world. If he makes a wrong decision in preparing the budget this year, the result could be military disaster in a future year.

In addition to the wisdom needed, Eisenhower is confronted by a very practical political consideration: the Republicans, who talked during the 1952 presidential campaign of balancing the budget, face their first test with the voters since then in November 1954. Whether or not the Eisenhower administration can balance the budget next year will be a major issue in the 1954 congressional elections.

Eisenhower is confronted with still another problem in their desire to balance the budget, will the Republicans try to raise taxes next year in some form or other?

It would be politically dangerous in an election year. In his San Francisco speech Humphrey danced around that question too, and yesterday Burgess declined to disclose anything about the administration's tax program.

Officer's Threat Carries More Punch Than Boy's

MARBLEHEAD, Mass. (AP)—Police Lt. Maurice Lee picked up the phone last night.

"At 7 15 the police station will be blown to bits," a boy's voice said.

Lee traced the call through the telephone exchange. He called the house and the same boyish voice answered.

"At 7 15," said the police officer, "I'm coming over and kick you right in the seat of the pants."

On thinking it over, Lee decided instead to hail the 14-year-old lad into juvenile court today.

RAID HUGE STILL

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP)—One of the largest stills ever to be uncovered in "bone dry" Oklahoma a 100-gallon job, was blown up by whisky raiders near Fallis. Three men were arrested.

Bargains Increasing

Record U.S. Production Slowing Rise in Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—Bargains pop up more frequently these days—fruit of the big jump in production which the United States made to meet growing civilian demand and at the same time have plenty to spare for d fense

Rising operating costs put a fairly firm floor under the prices of most products But the law of supply and demand can tear holes in it And when stocks pile up customers can shop for bargains

Gasoline price breaks are reported here and there Steel mills that once got premium prices for their products from customers shopping frantically for them at almost any price now are dropping back to list prices And many of them are picking up the freight tab again That s a break for steel users whether they make autos or refrigerators

Food prices stay high at the store bolstered by high operating costs—food processors say At the farm level the price of foodstuffs has fallen even below the support levels the government offers Now and then a rush of farm produce to market gives the housewife a chance to pick up some food bargains

Record production by farmers has pushed supplies above demand as the Commerce Department points out It says that marketing costs and processors profit margins have remained fairly stable of late This has given the housewife some bargain breaks—but not nearly as many as she thinks she should have nor as much as the farmer thinks would be in line with his drop in income

To both the farmer and the taxpayer who supports prices the over supply of farm products is a headache But from a defense angle the large stocks are a comfort An outbreak of hostilities upsetting world markets and supply lines, would quickly turn these burdensome sticks into an asset

Gasoline price cuts by some refineries, and gas price wars in some localities also can be traced back to the defense program, oilmen say The oil industry was asked to build up its resources so that it would have a reserve capacity of at least one million barrels a day, if suddenly called upon to produce it for defense

The industry did But idle capacity is always a temptation and refineries have turned out more gasoline than motorists are buying although gasoline consumption is higher than ever this year With gas stocks high price bargains are popping up

Although night traffic is smaller than day traffic three out of five fatal accidents occur at night

HEROIC STEWARD. Albert Folli, 29, of Clifton, N J, steward aboard the Eastern Airlines plane that crashed at Idlewild Airport in New York, was credited with keeping the death toll low He was burned about the face and hands leading trapped passengers to safety through a flame-blocked door Survivors agreed his quick thinking saved their lives

Parents Are Sentenced To 10 Years for Robbery

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—A woman who said she didn't want her children 'to go to school with patched britches' has been sent to prison for 10 years for a $1 600 grocery store holdup

That is the minimum sentence for the robbery charge to which Mrs Loretta Manning 27, pleaded guilty

Criminal Court Judge L A Grayson gave a 12 year sentence yesterday to her husband George 28 Manning also pleaded guilty He said his part was hiding the money after Mrs Manning made her getaway

Relatives are caring for the children boys 7 and 11

Butted by Ram, Texan Files Suit for $122,000

HOUSTON, Tex (AP)—Automobile dealer H B Sparks seeks $122 - 000 damages from oilman Bayard G Gaylor whose ram he alleges "butted his horns into the rear portion of your plaintuff' Aug 17 while "racing at a high and unusual speed"

In a petition filed yesterday in Civil District Court Sparks said he was thrown 20 feet

Gaylor informed of the suit said he'd warned Sparks about the ram He added "I've gotten rid of it"

Barons Climb to Second Place, Shut Out Milwaukee

Crowdis Protects Marion Goal for 5-0 Hockey Win

Lou Crowdis, popular goal tender for the Marion Barons, left the Coliseum rink with the first shutout seen there this season as the youthful Barons blanked Milwaukee 5-0 last night. The win enabled the Barons to soar into a second-place tie with the Cincinnati Mohawks.

Joe Ingoldsby, late addition to the Barons roster, made short work of last night's game. He poked a score past Goalie Bob Tyler after only 25 seconds had elapsed and the Barons were off and running.

Two Added

Before the period ended two more goals had been scored and the game was rapidly approaching a roughhouse affair. Ted Lebodia and Kenny Schultz received assists on Ingoldsby's score.

Near the end of the first period, the Barons added two goals in slightly more than a half minute. Gordon Vejprava, with an assist from Steve Brklacich and Coach Ott Heller, pumped one in at 17:33 and Jerry Prince came back to score at 18:05 Vejprava assisting in the second period.

With the Marion defense operating in such a manner as to virtually halt the visitors' offense, the winners boosted their lead to 4-0 int he second period.

Vejprava did the honors after 11:58 had gone by the boards. Jerry Prince notched an assist on the second period score. Murray Wilkie and Harold Jones teamed up on the final score at 12.10 of the last period. Wilkie put the puck into the net after a pass from Jones.

From that point on, Heller, Al Kellogg, Brklacich, Ted Lebodia and Wilkie took over the defense work and Milwaukee was finished.

With 13 seconds remaining to play, the Milwaukee coach pulled his goalie in an effort to break the shutout which Crowdis was working on. An offside had called for a faceoff at the Marion end of the rink and the Milwaukee team's offensive striking power was boosted. Crowdis protected the goal and with four seconds to play, the Milwaukee goalie returned to the ice.

24 Saves

Crowdis came up with 24 saves at the net in last night's game. Tyler was credited with 21.

Only injury in the rugged battle, was Nick Hill, Milwaukee forward. He suffered a long cut under the left eye in the first period when he was struck by the flying puck. Ted Lebodia had lifted the puck from the ice and it struck Hill in the face. Seven stitches were required to close the cut, Milwaukee players reported.

Richwood Night was observed at the rink and fans from that village were honored. The high school band was present and entertained during breaks in action. The crowd was the smallest of the season at the Coliseum.

The game was enlivened in the first period when the Barons' Paul Emms and Milwaukee's Louis Mathews hooked up in a personal duel. Both drew five minutes in the penalty box for the brief squabble.

The Barons' next action will be Saturday night when they travel to Grand Rapids for their first road game. The same two teams will be at the Coliseum Sunday afternoon.

Prexies Seek Comeback Tonight at Findlay

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Early this week we dropped in for a chat with Vern Miller at the new YMCA and visited the athletic setup in the building.

SHORT

We had always known, even in the old building on S. State St., Miller and the rest of the Y staff had done a marvelous job with the city's children and they're doing even better with the new facilities.

But the tremendous usage of the building's facilities at an adult level is amazing. Adult programs to suit any taste are or soon will be, in operation.

The adult program got off to a flying start yesterday when the regular men's volleyball classes opened. From here on a group of men will meet at the Y every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 12 to 1 p.m. for their sessions. The group will also make use of the swimming pool.

Tuesday and Thursday between 5:15 and 6.15 a regular men's physical fitness class is planned. The class will include exercise periods and both gym floors will be available for volleyball and basketball.

Two other big features of the adult program include a proposed diving class and badminton club. Miller reports the diving class will be the only activity requiring registration. He pointed out the event would be run on a roster basis. Twenty-five to 30 registrations will be needed before registrations are closed for the first 10 week period. After that another class will be started.

Also planned for Thursday night is the badminton program which is being directed by George Wood. The group is being organized as a club and is open to any adult. Women will be eligible for the competition.

Despite the schedule now being followed, Miller reports the adult program still is far from its peak. Periods remain available for women's swimming instructions but those are expected to be filled in the very near future.

Also on tap for the winter months is a class in fencing. Vern isn't talking too much about that plan but it definitely is on the books and several persons have expressed interest in taking part.

But the feature attraction of the adult program has not been scheduled as yet. That is the family activity nights for husbands and wives. Hours are available on Tuesday and Saturday nights but the program must still be rounded out.

FOOTBALL SPECIALIST AT MICHIGAN. Duncan McDonald, 175-pound junior who hails from Flint, Mich., is Michigan's passing specialist. McDonald has appeared as a spot passer for a total of only nine minutes and 30 seconds in the Wolverine's two recent games against Iowa and Northwestern. In that time he threw 14 passes, completing eight for 155 yards and four touchdowns and retired to the bench.

Junior High School Grid Teams In Round Robin Action Friday

Marion's three junior high schools take part in the annual Round Robin at the Stadium Friday night. Eber Baker and Robert A. Taft open the program at 7 p.m.

The second contest pits Edison against Baker and then Taft plays Edison in the windup. Each abbreviated game will consist of two eight-minute quarters.

A crowd of nearly 1,800 watched George White Edison's crew bowl over State Street and Vernon in two abbreviated games to capture the Round Robin last year.

Tickets are being sold at the three local junior high schools and will be on sale at the gate Friday night. Proceeds from the carnival go toward junior high school football expenses. Tickets are priced at 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Eber Baker will be out to add further laurels to its 1953 football campaign. Unbeaten, but tied once by Edison in four league outings, Don Zeisler's Baker squad won the Marion Junior High School Football League title. Taft's 12-6 triumph over Edison Monday clinched it second spot at 2-2. Edison's league log showed 0-3-1.

In league action this season, Baker trounced Taft 31-6; Baker and Edison fought to a 6-6 standstill; Taft edged Edison 7-0; Baker blanked Taft 26-0; Baker downed Edison 28-7; and then Taft nipped Edison 12-6.

Vernon Junior High School—whose students now attend Eber Baker—copped the Mar-Del League title last season. Edison came in second and State Street, called Taft this year and coached by Marion Waits, finished a notch ahead of Delaware. The latter dropped out of the league after last year's season.

Irish Selected To Stop Tech's Winning String

NEW YORK (AP) — Last week's special whammy cure didn't work in 12 of 47 cases and so this list of selections is made with the old hat-pin method—just stab and the team you hit is the winner.

But just as though nothing had happened, here are this week's picks:

Notre Dame over Georgia Tech: Tech's string of 31 games without defeat ends after a terrific struggle. Leon Hardeman's running and Bill Brigman's passing will keep the country's No. 1 college team in a tizzy all afternoon.

Michigan State over Purdue: Michigan State wants to climax its first season in the Big Ten by going to the Rose Bowl.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Midwest: Oklahoma AM over Detroit, Iowa State over Drake, Indiana, Kansas State over Wichita, Illinois over Syracuse, Iowa over Marquette over College of Pacific, Missouri over Nebraska, Northwestern over Pittsburgh, Oklahoma over Colorado, Ohio State over Wisconsin.

LIONS MADE RECORDS

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Smith and Don Doll of the Detroit Lions hold records in the National Football League. Smith holds the record for returning an intercepted pass 102 yards against the Chicago Bears in 1949. Doll holds a league mark for interception returns on a season basis. He scampered for 301 yards with enemy aerials in 1949.

Dave Kuenzli Among State's High Scorers

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school gridders start the stretch drive of the 1953 season this week, and some top tests are on tap for the leading elevens.

Massillon's five-time state champions, still the No. 1 team in the Buckeye realm, expect Mansfield's Tygers to be their finest foe up to date as they tangle tomorrow night on the Stark County grid.

Massillon has won five in a row this season, while Mansfield's lone loss was a 21-20 verdict to Warren's Panthers who hold third place in the state ratings.

Mansfield, despite the loss, has a firm hold on sixth place in The Associated Press poll. Massillon holds a 202-26 scoring record, against Mansfield's 124-54.

Warren and ninth-place Cleveland Benedictine, each with five wins, meet tomorrow in Warren in what could be another thriller. Warren has outscored the five foes 153-45, while Benedictine has a 124-12 point record.

The other six in the top 10 are favored to win. Second place Portsmouth entertains Dayton Stivers, whose outstanding effort this season was a 6-6 tie with Dayton Roosevelt, then a member of the top 10. The river city team, riding a nine-game winning streak, has bested the opposition 165-35.

Cincinnati Purcell, fourth placer with five wins and a 134-26 point mark, goes against Louisville (Ky.) Male on the Kentucky gridiron. Dayton Chaminade, in fifth place with five victories and the best scoring mark among the elite with 217-40, is expected to romp over Dayton Kiser.

Both Teams at Top Power For Buckeye League Scrap

Coach Pete Howison's Harding High School gridders travel to Findlay tonight seeking a win that could nail down second place in the Buckeye League for the Prexies.

Undefeated in three league games, the Harding team will meet only Fremont after tonight's scrap. Findlay has dropped one league decision to Fremont Ross.

Howison and his aides ended a short, but busy, week of practice sessions yesterday. A teachers' meeting in the Findlay district caused the game to be scheduled tonight, robbing the teams of a full day of practice. A meeting of teachers in this district will be held next week with the Prexies playing Thursday at Ashland.

The Trojans will carry a record of two wins and three losses into the game. Their first win came at the expense of Bowling Green 14-7. Harding whipped the same team 20-0. Lima South, Akron North and Fremont hold wins over Findlay but the team hit its peak last week in dumping Dayton Roosevelt 6-0. The Dayton Squad had been rated ninth in Ohio before that upset loss. Two weeks ago, Coach Bob Harter's team absorbed one of the worst beatings ever suffered by a Findlay club when Fremont Ross blasted out a 53-0 win.

Harter reports his squad will be in tip-top condition for tonight's battle. His usual starting lineup will be ready for action. That should include Bud Warren and Tom Buici, both 160 pounds at the ends, Bob Sutton, 170, and John Webber, 165, at tackles, Fred Staull, 165, and Don Winstead, 140, at the guards and 150-pound Doug Brown at center.

Bob Emerson, 155 pounder, will call signals from the quarterback slot with Bill Warner, 145, and Bob August, 180, at the halves. Rockey Shaffer, 160, will be at fullback.

Bob Zehnder and Jack Andrews will see action at the linebacking posts with Dave Pryer, Dick Moulder and Dave Miller coming in at other defensive positions.

Harding will be attempting to shake off the effects of its first loss of the season, a 20-13 whipping last week by Columbus Central.

The Prexies also will be at full strength. With the exception of Jim Whaley, who is recovering from an attack of food poisoning, the entire team will be available. Starters will include Gene Armstrong and Bob Stauffer at ends, Frank D'Eramo and Bob Hamor at tackles, Whitey Clinger and Abner Thomas at guards and Bob Caldwell at center. Ball carriers will include Chug Ballinger at fullback and Chet King and Joe Albinack at the halves with Don Schweinfurth and Fred Price splitting the quarterbacking.

Bobo Olson Takes Middleweight Title

New Champ Scores Decisive Win Over Britain's Turpin

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Bobo Olson may not be the greatest middleweight boxing champion the world has seen, but the tattooed man from Hawaii will do until a better one comes along.

He did a competent job on Randy Turpin of England in their 15-round showdown at Madison Square Garden last night before a capacity crowd of 18,869. He did not score a knockout, but only because the man from Leamington Spa had a tremendous lot of heart when he was being badly punished in the closing rounds.

Turpin did show up, despite every doubt that he would, and he made a fight of it for a national television audience. He made no complaint of the unanimous verdict against him by two judges and the referee. He said only between battered lips that he believed he could have done better if he had been free mentally, or words to that effect.

Exactly what he meant by that is not clear here. It is a matter of record, however, that he has been having some sort of feminine trouble back home. After the fight he told a British writer that he thought he might have knocked Olson out within eight rounds if he had been "right."

Turpin is separated from his wife and has been named co-respondent in a divorce suit.

Both Turpin and Olson will receive around $55,624 for the fight. Each received 30 per cent of the net gate, $128,415 gross $167,651 and the $60,000 radio-television money.

This particular observer saw the bout more or less as the officials did. We thought that Olson walloped the pixilated Briton by 10 rounds to 4, with 1 even—in other words, that he won the title going away.

Turpin won the first three rounds and then he took a whacking. His only other round was the eighth, wherein he belted Olson a right on the chops that staggered the new champ. However, Turpin was so tired he was unable to follow up his advantage.

For some obscure reason, Turpin was a sucker at getting caught with his back against the ropes. Every time the former champ staggered into the strands, Olson followed him there and poured in the leather. Afterwards, Randy couldn't explain this weakness himself.

The closest thing to a knockout probably came at the tag end of the ninth round. Olson had caught Turpin good in his own corner and had sent the Briton down with a flurry of solid blows to the head. The bell clanged, however, as Referee Al Berl reached the count of five.

In the following round Turpin went down against almost at the outset, but got up and was ready to go as Berl reached the nine count. He took a severe beating the remainder of the round.

From there on it was strictly a matter of whether Turpin would go the route. Several times Olson had him in trouble, set up for a series of clean shots to the jaw, but each time the Briton called upon his stamina and his ability to slip punches to get away.

The only visible damage to either fighter was a cut which Turpin received under his left eye in the third round and a cut mouth.

Olson weighed 159½, Turpin 157.

Lack of Drills Hinders Ohio's Running Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes blames his team's fumble trouble on the one-platoon system.

He told a Quarterback Club last night, "We just haven't been able to work as much on offense."

"We can only spend 40 minutes an afternoon concentrating on offense. It used to be we'd be able to give all of the players at least an hour and 20 minutes of such work."

"Not so now," Hayes continued, "the boys are concentrating on defense."

The Buckeye coach said the stress on defense is responsible for Ohio's low scores. He gave as examples the three touchdowns the Bucks scored against Illinois in losing and the two they tallied in beating Pennsylvania.

Scout Esco Sarkkinen had this to say about Saturday's game at Madison against Wisconsin.

"The team that builds up the most spirit and aggressiveness and eliminates the fumbles and interceptions will win."

He said the Badgers and the Bucks are in the same boat—each has a 3-1 record "and it's the turning point of our seasons."

WATKINS IN TIE

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Watkins, Ohio State's pile-driving halfback, is tied with another Big Ten back and a southern speedster for the national collegiate point-making lead. Watkins, Mickey Bates of Illinois and Johnny Mapp of Virginia Military Institute each have eight touchdowns and 48 points.

Double-M Loop Enters Season Payoff Stage

LaRue and Chesterville, sharing leadership in the Double-M Six-Man Football League after five weeks of action, figure to notch their fifth victories in games Friday night.

LaRue, co-champion with Claridon in the league chase last season, meets thrice-beaten Marengo while Chesterville entertains winless Waldo. The latter is making its league football debut this year.

Only other game on tap Friday night sends thrice-defeated Caledonia to Claridon. With one loss in four engagements, Claridon is tied with Johnsville for second spot.

Johnsville goes after its fourth victory when it battles Marengo at Centerburg, Saturday night.

It appears as though next week's Double-M League play will decide the loop championship and also the remaining first division spots. Chesterville is at LaRue in one game while Claridon is at Johnsville. The league season comes to a close the following weekend.

Unbeaten LaRue has counted 184 tallies in four league outings to its opponents' 64 while Chesterville has piled up 181 points while limiting its opponents to 53. Claridon has scored 130 tallies to the opponents' 91 and Johnsville shows 103-88 for the season.

Named Fourth Time

Stengel Wins Selection As Manager of the Year

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Casey Stengel is duly grateful, for the fourth time in five years, to be named baseball's Manager of the Year.

He made this point as clear as Mr. Stengel can make anything clear when advised at his home that he had won the 1953 award, hands down.

The New York Yankee skipper received 107 of the 179 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in the annual Associated Press poll.

The vote was quite a tribute to the 64-year-old master, the only man ever to manage a team to five straight world championships.

Never a man without a word, Casey none the less had to scratch around a bit for new ones to express his pleasure. After all, he won this same distinction in 1949, 1950 and 1952.

As Stengel put it, this award was purely a case of the Yankee coaches all combining to an astonishing movement "to build me up and win for me this great honor."

"They showed fine cooperation in not holding me back," he said.

Casey seemed intrigued that his vote was far greater than the combined ballot for the other 15 managers in the big leagues.

Milwaukee's hero, Charlie Grimm, was second, with 36 votes, six more than Casey's beaten rival in the World Series, Chuck Dressen, then of Brooklyn, now of Oakland, Calif.

Other votes: Paul Richards, Chicago White Sox, 10; Lou Boudreau, Boston Red Sox, 4; Al Lopez, Eddie Stanky and Rogers Hornsby, 1 apiece.

Grimm Named Top Pilot in National Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee's Charlie Grimm, who boosted the Braves from seventh to a surprising second-place finish in one year, was voted today National League Manager of the Year.

Grimm, who was runner-up to Casey Stengel yesterday for major league managerial honors, had no trouble outscoring Charlie Dressen, Brooklyn's deposed manager, for the National League's top spot.

The 55-year-old Grimm drew 110 of the 179 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Dressen was second with 66 votes. Eddie Stanky of St. Louis and Rogers Hornsby of Cincinnati, the only other managers to receive recognition, divided the remaining votes. Stanky got two and Hornsby one.

Stengel, the 1953 Manager of the Year, naturally was selected a top man in the American.

Browns Drill For Invasion Of New York

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wily Coach Paul Brown was anything but overconfident today as he prepared his hustling Cleveland Browns for Sunday's game at New York against the Giants.

The Giants, who apparently pick their players with an eye to how they will go against Cleveland, play two "big" games a year—both of them against Cleveland. And for each of those games you can throw past performances out the window in trying to predict the winner.

He probably learned the Browns were going to be tougher than ever.

'Radar' Brain Seen for Man of Future

By PIERRE C. FRALEY

PHILADELPHIA — Dr. Wilton Marion Krogman has been known for a long time as the "bone detective"—a nickname he doesn't particularly relish because he is one of the country's leading authorities on human growth and professor of physical anthropology at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Medicine.

He got to be known as the bone detective because he is often called to look over a handful of bones and reconstruct the past.

This month he stepped out of the role to apply his knowledge of human development to predicting what the human race might be like 5,000,000 years from now—if there still is a human race. He came up with some fantastic and frightening ideas.

By that time man will be anything that the geneticists want him to be. They will know enough about human evolution to manipulate and change him almost at will, the way they do fruit flies now in the laboratory.

The changes—of mutations—will be brought about by exposing the genes to nuclear rays or chemicals. The brain, for instance, will be made exceedingly powerful and sensitive. The average man will be able to transmit and receive thought-waves.

The electrical discharges in the brain tissue will be so powerful that thoughts could be projected through space just like today's radio program.

"The consequences of this sort of evolution are far-reaching," Dr. Krogman said, "there can, literally be no secrets, no secret alliances between persons or nations. There can be no surprise attacks among peoples, for radarlike, the brains of a nation will have their minds tuned to the thoughts of other nations."

The result of this psychic stalemate, he declared, will be peace on earth.

BESIDES SUPPLANTING radio and radar, the super-brain will do away with electronic computing devices, because there will be no problem too complex for it to solve. It will be a storehouse of facts and memory as well as a powerhouse for constructive thinking.

This teeming brain will be poised on a tummy-less body supported by flat, round, pedestal-like feet. There won't be any need for a stomach or intestines because all food will be predigested by synthetically made enzymes — the chemicals that make up the digestive juices. Only kidneys and skin will be needed to carry off the discarded wastes of the body.

The legs will be necessary just to hold the body erect, but the feet will lose their grasping function and will come to look like small versions of an elephant's foot.

The tempo of life in the year 5,001,953 will be slower than it is today. Part of this will be due to the reduced need for bodily action because of the brain's activity.

IN ADDITION to living slower, we will live longer. Dr. Krogman said that man probably will be living regularly to his outside limit of 140 years.

"Whether in time to come, the limit will be exceeded is problematical," he said. "The chances are that it won't be. As a general rule immortality may be to the spirit, but never to the flesh."

It might be possible to breed people who live on very little oxygen. This might be done by changing the composition of the blood so that it contains many more than the normal 5,000,000 red blood cells by cubic millimeter. These persons would be ideal candidates for interplanetary travel because they could live much longer than the ordinary person on a limited amount of oxygen.

Dr. Krogman said that his advanced type of man already may be living on a planet in one of the other thousands of galaxies that exist in the universe. All that would be necessary is that life should have started there 5,000,000 years earlier than on earth.

Trucker Finds $7,385

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Carlos Delahanty found a bag containing $7,385 in cash which had fallen from an armored car. He returned it and was told he would receive $350 in rewards.

Delahanty, a truck driver, has to work at three other part-time jobs to support his 15 children.

Philadelphia Teachers Union Protests Probe

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Teachers Union of Philadelphia has branded as unconstitutional an investigation by the House Un-American Activities Committee into alleged infiltration of Communists in city schoolteacher ranks.

"Congress is forbidden to legislate regarding schools under the 10th Amendment," said a statement by the independent union's Executive Board. "It may not investigate where it cannot legislate."

The 10th Amendment reserves for the states the powers not delegated to the federal government by the Constitution.

An official of the House committee said last night that indications are that 25 to 30 of Philadelphia's 8,000 teachers are Communists, possibly card-carrying party members. A hearing date has not been set.

Civic Projects

'Follies' Aid Christmas, Clothing Work of Guild

Proceeds from ticket sales for the Junior Service Guild-sponsored "Follies of 1953" will help further two civic projects of the Guild.

They are the Christmas basket clearinghouse and the clothing room. The 'Give-a-Christmas" clearinghouse was undertaken in 1950 with the endorsement of the Welfare Department, Salvation Army and other welfare agencies.

It has a three-fold purpose: to keep a confidential file of names submitted by welfare organizations, churches and individuals of families needing Christmas help, to give the name of a needy family to anyone wishing to give a basket and to keep a record of families receiving assistance so that duplication can be avoided.

LAST YEAR with Mrs. Richard Morgan serving as chairman for the project, assisted by Mrs. Kay Pennington as secretary, some 327 names were given out, and 327 names cleared. This amounted to 100 more than the previous year. Also, the sum of $280 was collected and given to the Salvation Army, a total of $100 more than the year before.

Serving on Mrs. Morgan's committee were Mrs. Philip Boyd, Mrs. Rayl Convers, Mrs. Leonard Elliot, Mrs. Timothy Kelly, Miss Elizabeth Gray, Mrs. Robert LaMarche, Mrs. J. W. McNoldy, Mrs. Elmer Niskanen, and Mrs. Keith Maloney. Serving as chairman of the project this year will be Mrs. Niskanen.

THE CLOTHING ROOM, located in the welfare office, with Mrs. Forest Laudenslager as chairman, served as the distribution center for good used clothing. This service was undertaken by the Guild in August of 1949 with the assistance of Miss Vivian Hall, Marion County welfare director, and her staff.

During the past year a total of 1,701 articles of clothing and 189 pairs of shoes were given to needy families. In addition, fifty youngsters were clothed for Salvation Army camp early in the summer and fifty more in July. Also during the past year Guild members piled up a total of 10,625 hours in volunteer services to the community.

The Guild's "Follies of 1953" will be presented Nov. 5 and 6 at the Palace Theater.

International Spy Ring Head Insists Beria Fled Russia

BALTIMORE (AP) — The head of an international spy ring with headquarters here said Wednesday Lavrenti Beria, former head of Russia's secret police is ready to release "critically important papers" to the West should anything happen to him.

Col. Ulius L. Amoss, retired Army officer who heads the spy ring, reiterated to subscribers to his International Services of Information that Beria has escaped Russia.

Amoss said when Bolshevik "panic" caused Stalin to be "killed," Beria's position became "untenable" and he vanished.

First however, Amoss said Beria "armed five specially trusted subordinates with critically important papers—including atomic energy plans . . . sent them out of Russia with instructions to hand the plans to Western authorities should anything happen to him."

Soviet officials have since denounced Beria, Amoss said, and are readying a stooge to stand trial as the former police head.

Beria is dissatisfied with this action, Amoss said, and has threatened to release the first of his five folders of secret papers if it continues. Amoss said the threat was relayed to an ISI agent by one of Beria's henchmen.

President's Envoys Hunt Path to Peace

By JAY G. HAYDEN

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Secretary of State Dulles recently in London, Vice President Nixon in the Far East, Herbert Hoover Jr in Iran, Eric Johnston in Israel and the Arab states, Milton Eisenhower recently returned from South America

These are only a few of the advance agents in an attempt by President Eisenhower to attain world peace and stability by aggressive firsthand intervention at specific points of disruption

The missions of Hoover and Johnston are especially illustrative

Herbert Hoover Jr has taken over where his father left off before World War I, as a world-famous engineer An authority especially in the field of petroleum development young Hoover was singled out by the President to try his hand at getting Iranian oil flowing after more than two years of paralysis caused by former Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh's abortive nationalization of the industry

HOOVER'S FUNCTION it is emphasized is in no way 'diplomatic' He is not empowered to negotiate with the new government headed by Premier Fazlollah Zahedi nor is he carrying with him any preconceived plan for settlement of the Iranian oil problem

Hoover's mission a State Department announcement said is 'for the express purpose of becoming fully acquainted from on the spot observation with problems inherent in the Iranian oil situation so that he will be able better to discharge his duties as special adviser (to Mr Dulles) on oil"

A more specific inkling as to Hoover's function may be found in an Iranian official statement a few days ago that the first essentials to getting Iranian oil flowing are $40 000 000 and 600 experts No doubt Hoover's first job will be to examine those needs and suggest ways for meeting them

Also Hoover is peculiarly well qualified to deal with the entire problem of fitting resumption of Iranian oil production into an already oversupplied world market

SIMILARLY Johnston, motion-picture czar and former president of the U S Chamber of Commerce is working for a business solution of a peculiarly difficult interracial problem He is trying to remove the largely single obstacle to peace between Arabs and Israelian Jew by finding home and economic opportunity for 900 000 Arab refugees now wasting away in concentration camps

One project Johnston is carrying with him is a plan for use of the waters of the Sea of Galilee for a sort of Tennessee Valley development—providing hydroelectric power and irrigation of new lands to be tilled by both Arabs and Jews

Congress already has appropriated $153 000 000 for the Arab refugees but all for emergency feeding rather than permanent solution of the problem Efforts to persuade Arab nations to accept these Arabs as immigrants have totally failed

LATTERLY CONGRESS has been balking at continuance of this relief expenditure A report last spring by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee headed by the late Senator Taft of Ohio declined

The American people are moved by strong humanitarian motives but they cannot be expected to bear indefinitely so large a share of the burden involved in this situation when Israel and the Arab states show so little initiative in helping to settle the matter for themselves There is a very real danger that the longer the United States continues ot supply relief money, the less desire there will be on the part of the states in this area to make real efforts on their own part to liquidate the problem '

Johnston's purpose is 'to show Israelites and Arabs how to solve the situation, with advantage to both of them, while at least relieving the U S of the job of keeping Arab refugess presently increasing their numbers in idleness '

President Eisenhower announced that he had assured Johnston full support ' and the widest possible latitude ' in dealing with the Jewish-Arab conflict

DULLES FIRST AIM in going to London may have been to ease the threatening Trieste situation, but much more in his mind, in all probability is the differences between the Western Powers as respects future negotiation with Russia Particularly, he wants to insure Germany's participation in the western European defense force before offering a mutual-defense treaty or any other major concession to the Russians

Like Hoover in Iran and Johnston in eastern Asia Vice President Nixon on his tour of the Far East is searching for ways and means for specific aid to each of the nations visited at a minimum of cost to United States taxpayers And Milton Eisenhower already has pursued that same quest throughout South America

Hot Soil Endangers Fall Wheat Crops

Hot, rather than dry soil is more of a danger to wheat seed planted in the fall according to the agronomy department of Ohio State University

A report released this week indicates an organism which causes wheat scab also attacks young plants when the soil temperature is high Many plants are killed by the organism

However the report adds some wheat may lie dormant in the ground for a long period of time but will come up in the spring to fill out wheat which had appeared thin in the fall

Lack of rain which would have cooled the soil temperature is causing most concern among farmers the report says

Black Bottom Pie Has New York Style

Brazil Nut Crust Makes Different, Delicious Party Treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Recipes sure do get around — and take on new features while they re traveling

When we first met up with Black Bottom Pie it was a Deep South offering with a gingersnap crust a chocolate layer, another rum-flavored custard layer, and a topping of whipped cream and shaved chocolate

Then we heard that Black Bottom Pie was the piece de resistance among desserts at a famous Hollywood restaurant where it achieved a pastry shell, a layer of chocolate filling mixed with whipped cream and a whipped cream and grated chocolate topping

Recently a friend of ours visited that California restaurant, tasted the pie, and was inspired to re turn to New York and create her own version of Black Bottom Here it is New York style and utterly delicious

The crust of this new Black Bottom is a luscious combination of ground Brazil nuts and sugar—so easy to prepare that even the newest cook can turn it out perfectly Chocolate filling goes into the crust—a filling with a delicate airy texture achieved by using unflavored gelatin Mindful of budgets the filling also uses evaporated milk instead of cream Cream however, makes the topping You finish off the pie with a garnish of Brazil nut and chocolate-curl "flowers"

To shell the Brazil nuts for the pie the easy way follow these directions Cover the nuts with cold water, bring to a boil and boil three minutes drain Cover with cold water, let stand one minute drain and crack

Put some of the shelled nuts through your food grinder using the coarse blade, and use them in the crust.

For the toasted sliced nuts used in the garnish follow these steps Cover the shelled whole nuts with cold water and bring slowly to a boil simmer two or three minutes drain Now slice the nuts thin — you'll be able to do this with a sharp knife and the slices will remain intact Now spread the slices in a shallow pan and toast in a moderate (350F) oven for 10 to 20 minutes

Remember that you can use this Brazil-nut crust for all kinds of chiffon fillings You'll like it at holiday time because it is wonderfully delicious with such fluffy chiffon fillings as pumpkin, eggnog, and Nesselrode

This new version of Black Bottom Pie is one to serve when you invite friends for coffee and dessert It also makes a divine dessert for a dinner that features meat poultry, or fish.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE NEW YORK STYLE

Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¾ cup sugar ⅛ teaspoon salt 1 egg yolk (lightly beaten), ¾ cup milk 4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate 1 cup icy cold evaporated milk (whipped), 1 teaspoon vanilla, one 9-inch Brazil-Nut Crust 1 cup heavy cream (whipped and sweetened) toasted Brazil nut slices

Method: Mix gelatin sugar and salt in top of double boiler Combine egg yolk and milk add to gelatin mixture Add 3 squares of the chocolate cook over boiling water until chocolate is melted stirring often Remove from heat and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Chill until thickened Fold in whipped evaporated milk and vanilla Turn into Brazil-nut crust and chill Spred with whipped cream Arrange Brazil-nut slices "flower" fashion on top of pie Shave remaining 1 square of chocolate into curls with swivel blade peeler, pile in center of "flowers"

BRAZIL-NUT CRUST:

Ingredients 1 cup ground Brazil nuts (½ pound unshelled nuts), 2 tablespoons sugar

Method Mix the Brazil nuts with sugar in a 9-inch pie plate Press the mixture with back of a tablespoon against the bottom and sides of the pie plate If a toasted flavor is desired bake in a hot (400F) over 8 minutes, or until lightly browned Cool

Salmon Sandwiches Good for Children's Lunch

Back to school time means back home to lunch for lots of school kids. And the children being home for lunch means that Mother has to think of quick dishes which will be nourishing and appetite appealing.

Here is a recipe for Open Salmon Sandwich Grill, sure to become a favorite noontime treat. It's made with full-flavored flaked salmon on toasted hamburger buns, served with asparagus sauce.

Use one 1-pound can salmon, 2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice, 4 hamburger buns.

Chill unopened can of salmon in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Drain salmon; remove carefully from can in one piece, cut crosswise into 4 slices. Place each slice on bottom half of hamburger bun; sprinkle with lemon or lime juice. Place on broiler rack with surface of food 3-inches below heat. Broil 10 minutes or until salmon is heated through. Place top halves of buns cut side up in broiler last 2 minutes broiling time. Top salmon with toasted halves of buns; serve with Asparagus sauce. Makes 4 servings.

For hte asparagus sauce use 1 can condensed asparagus soup, 1-3 cup light cream.

Combine soup and cream; stir over low heat until hot.

California Readies Second Telescope

MOUNT HAMILTON, Calif. (UP) —The world's second largest telescope—a 120-inch instrument—is nearing completion at the University of California's Lick Observatory and astronomers already are beginning to call California the astronomy center of the world.

Dr. C. D Shane, director of the observatory, said only 10 more pounds of glass need be taken from the four-ton pyrex disc.

The instrument will then enable scientists to study the cold, black outer regions of space at a radius of 900-billion light years.

Only the Mount Palomar 200-inch "Big Eye" surpasss the Lick Observatory instrument.

When the final polishing is finished some 800 pounds of glass and about two years of painstaking work will have been consumed.

During the final polishing stages, unglazed tile will be used to rub iron oxide, which scientists call "rouge" because of its resemblance to the women's cosmetic, over the giant mirror.

The Lick Observatory instrument, the Palomar telescope and the 100-inch instrument at Mount Wilson will, according to astronomers, make California the astronomy center of the world.

Teapot Collection's Value Set at $20,000

TRENTON, Tenn. (UP) — This town has a valuable "museum" of beautiful and rare teapots donated by a former resident.

Dr. Frederick C. Freed of New York presented the $20,000 collection to his home town and the 125 pot are on display at Peabody High School.

Nearly all the teapots are of foreign manufacture and were collected by Freed in Europe. Some contain detachable bases that contain tiny oil lamps.

Tops of the teapots are fitted so clevely that many would never be recognized for what they really are. One teapot is built in the figure of a woman, who wears a flaring cape and skirt. A gentle turn separates shoulders and head and there's the teapot.

CLASS OFFICER RESIGNS

Paul Fetter submitted his resignation, as treasurer when the Senior Bible Class of Emanuel Lutheran Church met Tuesday night at the church. To fill the vacancy, Willis Rider, who has been treasurer, was elected to continue in that position. Plans were made for a bake sale to be held at the next meeting. For the program, Myron Gorby showed a colored movie of the progress of the state of Ohio. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Democrats Statists, GOP Leader Tells Rally in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leonard W. Hall Republican national chairman, says the Democratic party has fallen captive to "the tidal wave of total statism which threatens to engulf the four corners of the earth."

He spoke Tuesday night at a $50-a-plate Republican rally and dinner honoring the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Hall said the Democrats intend to have the federal government perform "every function possible, even to the point of regulating the economic livelihood of everyone through all manner of federal controls and . . . programs."

In praising Sen. Taft, Hall said "We who loved Bob Taft can take comfort in the fact that in (his) last six months, not only the American people . . . but the world as well, at last grasped the true greatness of the man."

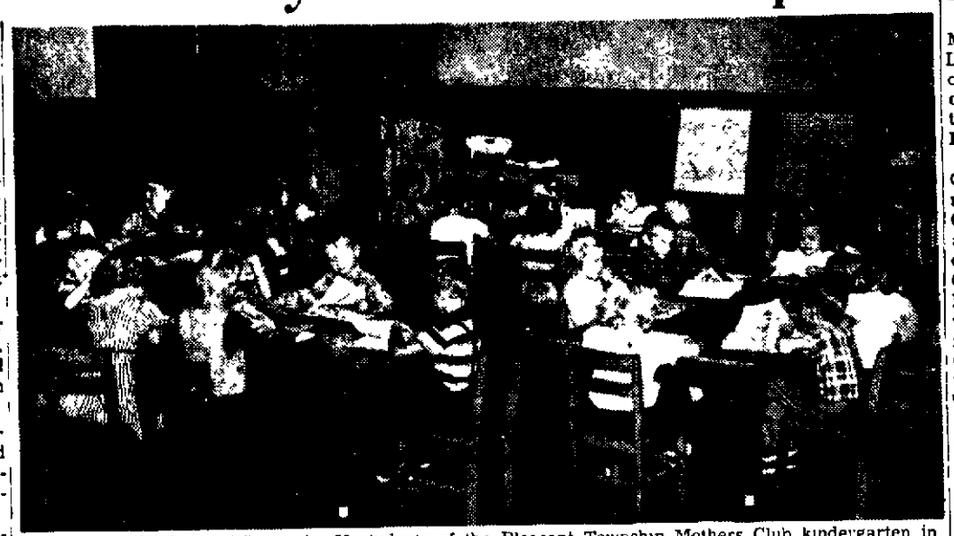
Kindergarten Formed by Pleasant Township Club

Community's Youngsters Attending Classes in Children's Home



BUSY AT THEIR DESKS are the 26 students of the Pleasant Township Mothers Club kindergarten in session at the Marion County Children's Home. In the background, assisting one of the children, is their teacher, Mrs. E. A. Shroats. The classroom, colorfully decorated, is the girls' playroom of the Children's Home. "School" is in session from 9 to 11.30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Pre-schoolers living in Pleasant Township have a new topic of conversation these days. Twenty-six of the five-year-old set are attending morning sessions of kindergarten sponsored by the Pleasant Township Mothers Club.

School bells started ringing for them on Sept. 14 and ever since, just like their older brothers and sisters, the 26 youngsters have been "going to school."

Mrs. E. A. Shroats of 226 Cummins Ave. is their teacher, and their classroom is the girls' playroom at the Marion County Children's Home south of Marion.

The kindergarten is self-sustaining, with parents paying five dollars per month per child. Parents have formed a car pool, taking the children to the kindergarten in time for the 9 a.m. bell, and then pick them up when "school" is dismissed at 11.30 a.m.

Although sponsored by the Pleasant Township Mothers Club, the kindergarten is open to any child residing in the township, Mrs. Shroats explained. At the present time there is a waiting list of prospective students.

What do the five-year-old scholars learn at school?

Singing, drawing, rhythm, finger painting, and crafts are all included in the "curriculum" along with specially planned activities fitting in with the current season.

And, of course, there's recess, always a favorite with all school children.

Gene White, superintendent of the Children's Home, which is providing the space for the kindergarten, explained that the girls playroom is used by the kindergarten group at a time when the Home residents themselves are in school and would not be able to use the playroom.

Ohioana Library Group To Attend State Lunch

Marion County members of the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Association will join others in the state for the Sesquicentennial luncheon and program to be held Saturday at the Neil House in Columbus.

Annual awards will be presented Ohioans for outstanding achievements in the literary field. Ohio Career Medals for the year will be awarded to Howard Barlow, orchestra leader and director, and Grayson T. Kirk of Washington C. H., president of Columbia University and the Ohio Sesquicentennial Medal to James Thurber, Gordon Keith Chalmers, author of "The Republic and the Person," William Donahue Ellis, author of "The Bounty Lands", Lynn J. Radcliffe, autho of "Making Prayer Real" and Howard Swiggett, author of "The Extraordinary Mr. Morris" will receive awards.

This year's county chairman citation goes to Mrs. Max Shepherst of Lucas County, and citations in the field of music go to Miss Jean Ellsperman of Columbus, for her "Ohio Songs" and Charles Haubiel of Ohio State University for his "Romanza for Trio."

Mrs. Frank J. Lausche will extend greetings at the luncheon and included in the afternoon presentation of Ohio Authors will be Thomas D. Bain of the Harding High School staff for his co-authorship of a textbook, "Living Things" published this year. A tea at the home of Governor and Mrs. Lausche will follow the program.

Miss Pansy Rauhauser is Marion County chairman.

Stenographer Fears Loss of Job in Germany

BERLIN (UP)—Six days a week, eight hours a day, dark-haired, slim Dora Schmidt pounds her typewriter or takes shorthand notes in a West Berlin office.

Employed as a secretary at a medium-sized West Sector engineering office, Miss Schmidt, 27, is one of the city's more than 170,000 woman white collar workers.

Her chief worry is the fear of losing her job — not because of her own inefficiency, but because of West Berlin's immense unemployment problem. More than two-thirds of Berlin's women office workers are out of jobs and live on a dole.

With a take-home pay of 300 westmarks (about $72) a month, Miss Schmidt is considered well paid. Average incomes of women white collar workers in West Berlin range from $50 to $100 a month.

(A similar stenographic job in New York would pay between $47 and $62.50 per week, or about three times as much as Miss Schmidt draws. She works 48 hours a week against the standard 40-hour week general in New York.)

Like the majority of Berlin's working girls, she lives with her family. She shares a two-room kitchen and bath apartment with her widowed mother who contributes her $30 a month old age pension to the little household.

Mother and daughter spend $20 or a little less than one-fifth of their joint income for rent, while an additional $50 goes for food and other commodities each month.

Miss Schmidt likes to dress well and follows fashion news with interest. She spends about one-sixth of her income on clothes and shoes.

For the last three months she has been saving up her clothes allowance for a new winter coat which will come to about $43 at one of the city's department stores.

She realizes she is luckier than many of her colleagues who, with their husbands killed in World War II or deported by the Russians, must support families of one or more children on their salaries.

Miss Schmidt does not consider herself a "career girl." She plans to get married in the not-too-far-away future to a young technician. While she is willing to go on working for the first few years, she is ready to give up her job as soon as her husband earns enough to support his family.

Seven Marion soldiers released from two years active duty have been transferred to the United States Army Reserve at Ft. Hayes, Columbus. Assigned to the 2119th Reinforcement Control Group, the new reservists are Cpl. Jack L. Ballantyne of 429 Oak St.; Cpl. Richard A. Bechtle of 622 E. George St.; Pfc. George T. Craven of 147 S. Grand Ave.; Cpl. Robert E. Drollinger of 189 Bain Ave., Sgt. William H. Hylton of 337 S. Prospect St.; Cpl. Donald F. Johnson of 752 Oak Grove Ave.; and Pfc. Eufracio A. Ynes of 1015 N. Main St.

Staff Sgt. William J. Tsumpes, son of Mrs. Charles Blow, of 292 E. Center St., and George J. Tsumpes of Vandergrift, Pa., has been named airman-of-the-month in the 40th Bombardment Wing at Smoky Hill Air Force Base at Salina, Kansas. The honor is bestowed for outstanding performance of job, technical ability, cleanliness, and high morale. Sgt. Tsumpes, an airborne electronics equipment technician, arrived at the Kansas air base a Strategic Air Command base last June. He entered the Air Force in July of 1948 following his graduation from Harding High School and later served in Korea for a year and attended two Air Force radio schools. His awards include the Korean Service Medal, United Nations Medal, Army of Occupation Medal, Good Conduct Medal, and the Korean Presidential Unit Citation.

QUICK CHICK

MODESTO, Calif. (UP) — The life span of the chicken is growing shorter. The local farm advisor's office reports that 10 years ago it required 12 weeks to produce a three-pound broiler. Today, this same job can be done in about 10 weeks.

9 Building Permits Issued in Marion

Nine building permits were issued by the City Clerk's office during the past week. Two of the permits were for homes, one on Hane Ave. valued at $8,000 to be built by Samuel Babich, and the other, at 906 Garfield St. valued at $3,500 to be built by S. R. Phelps of 209 Benton Place.

Other persons to whom permits were issued, the type of building, and estimated cost follow:

G. O. and Bertha M. Bensley, 536 E. Church St., garage, $350; D. E. McClaren, 321 Waterloo St, garage, $100; Bruce and Margaret Tibbals, 329 Powhatten St, garage, $600, Marion Cox, 209 Plymouth St., tool shed, $75; Otis and Nellie Scott, 278 Waterloo St., bedroom, $750, Willard Martin, one-room addition to house between 187 and 191 St. Clair St., $150, Ralph E. Cuhart, 350 Franklin St., garage, $100.

Beauty Impresses Traveler

Brisbane, Garden City of Queensland, One of Australia's Tourist Attractions

(One of a number of articles by Nina Pulliam on the customs of the people of Australia, New Zealand and the Fiji Islands. Mrs Pulliam, wife of Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and other newspapers, is gathering material for a book on the world "down under.")

—:—

By NINA PULLIAM

MT TAMBOURINE, QUEENSLAND, Australia, (NANA)—Fifty miles and many hours travel behind me is the amiable, ambling city of Brisbane, capital of Queensland I have walked through its modern, comfort-catering streets—Elizabeth and Ann and Adelaide, William and Albert and George I have admired its city hall and the handsome, still A-building university at St Lucia; I have strolled with friends under the magnificent old Moreton Bay fig trees which here and there shade the embankments of the Brisbane River and I've climbed the curling road to the top of Mount Cootha to look down across the whole, unfolding panorama.

And now I feel as though I "know" the city. I've long and happy memories to keep of things seen and done and of people met and liked there.

The unhurried, but prospering city of Brisbane in 1953 is many an earth's turning from the city of 125 years ago. Where the sleek, gray trams run today, carrying nearly a half-million people to their jobs or to the pleasures of their generally pleasant, purposeful lives, a dozen decades ago enslaved women and men tore the city's foundations from the resisting earth—convicts, toiling under the searing weight of clanking leg-chains and their overseer's curses, looking from the heights of the hilly city at Breakfast Creek and the wide winding Brisbane River

TODAY THE RIVER is spanned by big bridges, the handsomest of which is the Story Bridge, under which the biggest ocean-going vessel can pass untouched, to berth at these docks for unloading and reloading cargoes from and to all the great ports of the world.

There's a rich mixture of the "dinkum" Australian speech with the true Scotch here, which becomes one of the most charming language variants I've heard—and that's "the fair dinkum!" (Australian slang for "genuine"). Here are the descendants and additions to the 600 "virtuous Presbyterians" who were transplanted in 1849, and a most excellent leavening they have been, I'm bound to say.

Brisbane has daringly laid out her boundaries to encircle 365,000 acres—"a thousand for each day in the year, ye see, and largest of any city in the world, except your Los Anglees," I was told. But the jungles are unheeding of those boundaries. They announced themselves so clearly you cannot help but know this is the gateway to the tropics Wide avenues are lined with white and mauve-rose flowering Bohemia trees and jacarandas; with lush frangipani and flaming poinsettias, state flower of Queensland, with poincianas and black-boughed coral trees, the bare branches tufted with glorious scarlet blossoms One or another, they toss down carpets of flowers at your feet and waft showers of fragrance into the air you breathe. The fruits of the tropics are here too—pineapples and bananas, passion fruit and mangoes, pawpaws and mangosteens and custard apples; and, most marvelous of all, the incredible "monstera deliciosa," which offers up its slender, improbable fruit, variously called the "cocktail" and the "salad" fruit . . . one eats it a little each day as it ripens, scaling back the peeling and removing the black spines—today's section may taste like a banana; put it away and tomorrow's portion may taste like pineapple or orange or mandarin . . . . and so on until its entire eight or ten inches are gone

TWO CALLERS awaited me at my hotel. "Ye are writing, Miss? Well then it would be right for an American to write up the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Clinic. Have ye seen it, Miss? 'Tis a dilapidated old broken-down thing, that it is. The stuffed shirts, the old fogies, they wouldn't let her have a go of it . . . they really scaled her for fair. 'Tis a disgrace to the memory of a great woman . . . but to them, those wowsers, she was just a nursing sister, and from the bush, at that' But the people, ah they loved her!"

—:—

ALONG A JUNGLE ROAD . . . "And see those anthills? They make the finest tennis courts in the world. All you do is put them down and roll them out. It sets like cement " There were anthills higher than my head There were anthills midway up the trunks of dead, gray trees, which they infest. There are hundreds of kinds of ants, including the strange yellow ones, the little water ants which carry a small sac of water on their backs It's because of the ants so many buildings in Queensland are on stilts, capped with metal between the stilt top and the floor to arrest the insect's progress.

—:—

"AND HOW WILL YE go today Madam? By the valley road? 'Tis a fine one, real bitcha-mun" (the invariable pronunciation of bitumen!) "No, I think by the road to Camp Cable "

My thoughts swung round to the young American fighting men who came, a million strong, to Brisbane in World War II. This city must indeed be green in their memories, and they are not forgotten here "Ah, we were a garrison city for sure And don't worry, Madam, we felt ourselves fortunate when the lads got here, too, that we did," a country woman told me. "And we were proud to have General MacArthur here, indeed we were."

My jungle road took me to see Camp Cable where "the lads" got their grueling training in jungle warfare "They had a sergeant and if he'd 'sing out' I reckon you'da heard him all the way to Brisbane." . . . Little remains of the toil and trial of those used-up years in these jungles, among the nettle-sharp stinging trees, the strangling, engulfing, twisted vines, the murmuring tree ferns and the towering, ghostly gums, while cockatoos screamed at their intrusion and the kookaburra laughed his taunting laugh.

ONLY THE CHIMNEY of the officers' club still stands — that cleared spot there is the site of the open-air picture show where young Americans saw the nearest duplication of the life they had left behind. A simple tablet says "USA. Camp Cable "They passed this way.' 1942-1944 " And nearby is a small monument bearing this inscription: "In loving memory of Vicksburg (mascot). Born Vicksburg, Miss., August, 1940. Killed, Southport, Queensland, 1942." The poignant memorial is topped by a picture, under glass, of the beloved little dog.

Today the songs of the bellbird and the magpie, the butcher bird and the "jackie" echo through these hills where once the bugles sang out reveille and taps, calling men from their rest or returning them to it. The bush has reclaimed its own—and Mount Warning still looks down across the scene, as she has for ages past, unperturbed and unchanged by the puny passage of man.

Appreciation Should Be Expressed

Gratitude Costs Little But Means Much

By FRANK TRITT

Too many people think that the only way to express appreciation is by doing something greater or grander than was done for them. So they do not adequately display their gratitude; sometimes fail to mention it.

It is so easy to repay a kindness by simple acts that cost nothing. Appreciation is the master recompense, often the only way that one can meet a debt.

Yet gratitude is hoarded by those who have nothing else to give. They force great numbers who would get joy out of generous giving, into cynics' shells, proclaiming "what's the use?"

Men who might have become renowned philantropists are stopped in their tracks by the willful or thoughtless indifference of beneficiaries of their benevolence, ingrates who had no appreciation of what it often costs, even a big man to do something nice for other people.

SOME WHO wouldn't trade with a cigarette dealer who failed to a thrill "thank you" will accept the bounty of others without so much as indicating knowledge of whence the bounty came; which is all they really need to do.

Gratitude is costless, yet prized by its recipient, and can square a tremendous debt. Ingratitude is costly; always costs a friend.

It needn't be that the incident involves the giving of a college dormitory that brought a degree to a bird who didn't finish high school. It could be that a thoughtful person just sent a basket of groceries to a hungry family. He rates, at least, the thanks that he gets when he buys a pack of cigarettes.

IT ONLY TAKES a few incidents of ingratitude to change a kind heart into one of flint toward the less fortunate.

Maybe you know a man who got hard-boiled that way. More than once he enthused to help a derelict. He did more than spend money. He tried to put himself in the other's place. It gave him a thrill.

He bought suits for a ragged boy, dresses for a little girl, toys and dolls, and got a kick out of the joy he thought he would bring a hard luck family.

Not a word, not an echo comes back to him that would urge him on. Maybe he even hears that he has plenty, could have done a lot more. The father, the mother, not even the little kids cross his path with word that they enjoyed the things that he sent them. This happens so often, might easily have happened to you.

USUALLY SUCH rude reaction comes from those who think that all they get is coming to them: a philosophy propagated by agitators among the have nots against the haves. Such must ultimately be written off as lost to the American way of life. If they multiply, and win, there'll be no haves, no have nots. All will be serfs.

But, unfortunately, it is not always that sort who ignore their benefactions. It happens among those who harbor not a single Marxian thought; otherwise intelligent, considerate people who just simply don't seem able to say "thank you."

IT ISN'T ALWAYS strangers, either, who break the benevolent spirit of the generous. It is a sad short step from family indulgence to ingratitude, the point where one's own look upon their blessings as their due.

When that day comes, the joy of giving departs; replaced by a sense of loneliness and defeat, swept away by a sort of boughten allegiance, that hurts.

That is why true love abides with poverty—and is blest, why so many disillusioned souls murmur:

"What's the use?"

Salary Hike Voted Mayor at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus next mayor—either Frank P. Siller, Republican incumbent, who is seeking a third term, or Joe Sullivan, Democratic nominee—will receive a $50 a month pay increase when he takes office next Jan. 1.

City Council at its meeting Tuesday night voted a $25 a month pay hike for the next mayor to offset loss of fees due to changes in state laws. After Jan. 1, mayors can no longer retain court costs on state cases but must pay them into the city general fund.

Present salary of the mayor is $3,000. However, a $300 a year increase was voted the mayor last June by city council when most city employe and officials' salaries were increased. Both $300 raises will not be effective until 1954.

In 1951, the mayor's salary was raised from $2,400 to $3,000 when he was deprived of fees in city ordinance cases.

Price Support Will Continue, Senator Feels

Flanders Sees Ike Likely To Ask 2-Year Extension 'As Is'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said Wednesday he "wouldn't be surprised" if the Eisenhower administration asks Congress to extend present farm price support laws for two years without change.

President Eisenhower faced probable questioning at his news conference today about farm problems. His secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, has recently come in for increasing criticism.

Flanders had a half hour's talk with Eisenhower at the White House yesterday. He said in an interview afterwards:

Through 1956

"From what the President said, I wouldn't be surprised if the administration plans to continue the present price support plan through the end of 1956."

Benson has said the present method of supporting farm prices is inadequate, in part because it piles up big surpluses in government hands. Eisenhower, in a speech at Kansas City last week, said the farm program his administration will present to Congress early next year will retain the principle of price supports.

Eisenhower listed these three possible courses of action: "First, to extend present laws exactly as now written; second, to extend them with changes; and third, to revise them radically in favor of a new program."

Benson Disagrees

Benson, meanwhile, said "I certainly do not agree" that lack of confidence in administration farm policies was the primary reason for the Democrats' victory last week in a special congressional election in Wisconsin's 9th District. They had never before won that House seat.

Benson, in an interview with Ernest K. Lindley in Newsweek magazine, said the election result, "so far as the farm vote is concerned . . . may well indicate continued dissatisfaction with the existing farm program which the Eisenhower administration inherited from the Truman administration."

He indicated he has no intention of resigning, or of altering his approach to the farm price problem.

Flanders said he hoped "that Benson will last in the Cabinet, because in his fundamental position he is right."

Covers 6 Basic Crops

The present price support program guarantees growers of six basic crops—wheat, corn, tobacco, cotton, rice and peanuts—90 per cent of parity, regardless of the free market price. Parity is a price said by law to give farmers a fair return in comparison with the prices of things they must buy.

If prices fall below the support level, farmers may get loans from the government on their crops.

The mandatory 90 per cent price supports for basic crops expire at the end of the 1954 crop year, to be replaced by a flexible system ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, unless Congress acts to extend them.

Flanders said he is against a long-range farm program with high-level supports and prefers the flexible system, but he added: "You can't reverse the field overnight. The administration has started studies into this whole question. These should continue, and by the end of 1956 the administration should come up with a new approach. Until then, it's probably best to continue the present system."

Benson, meanwhile, announced the Agriculture Department will support the price of oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums produced in 1954 at 85 per cent of parity—the same level as this year. A shift to a new parity formula, however, will mean slightly lower dollars and cents prices than this year for those products except rye. Benson also announced a cut from 80 per cent to 70 per cent of parity in the support level for the 1954 flaxseed crop.

West Virginia Robbery Loot Near $150,000

Prosecutor Reports Gunmen Made Off With Third Strongbox

WHEELING, W Va (AP) — The amount listed as stolen in the robbery of Dr W P Sammons' home now approaches $150 000 after a belated report that the gunmen got three strong boxes full of cash, instead of two.

Prosecutor Joseph A Gompers said Wednesday the Wheeling physician had reported discovery that a third strong box containing "between $40,000 and $50,000" was missing

It had been reported previously that the loot in the daytime robbery of the suburban home eight days ago consisted of two boxes containing nearly $100 000 There was no explanation of the delay in reporting the third box missing

Two gunmen took the boxes of cash from the third floor of the residence after binding and gagging a maid and an elderly sister of the physician Sammons was not at home at the time

Three Dallas Tex, men and a woman have been arrested in the robbery About $96 000 of the loot has been recovered in Ohio and Texas

A hearing was to be held here today on a petition for release under a writ of habeas corpus of 32-year-old Mrs Mary Balderson, the woman under arrest on a robbery charge.

Thomas P O'Brien, attorney for Mrs Balderson, claimed she was promised immunity from prosecution in return for telling authorities all she knew about the robbers

O'Brien said it was her tip that led to the arrest at Lima Ohio, of 46-year-old Philip C Anderson of Dallas Police have described him as the leader of the trio which staged the robbery.

Filing of an additional charge against Mrs. Balderson in connection with an earlier alleged theft at the Sammons residence was reported by Gompers last night.

He said the charge was based on information supplied by a woman who said she and Mrs. Balderson had worked together as cleaning women in the Sammons home. The other woman was not identified

Gompers said the woman gave this account:

While the two were cleaning walls together, Mrs. Balderson spotted the strong boxes and lifted the lid of one Inside she found an envelope with "2,000" marked on the outside

The woman said Mrs. Balderson took the envelope and later told her it contained only $600, not $2 000

Ohio County authorities forwarded to Gov Marland yesterday extradition papers for Jimmy Fugitt, 34, and Harry Ward, 43, who are under arrest in Dallas for the robbery

They have refused to waive extradition. The papers must go from Marland to Gov Allan Shivers of Texas

Bond for Anderson was increased from $10,000 to $20,000 last night This was viewed as a step to prevent his release on bail now that it appears that $45 000 or more of the robbery loot is still not accounted for

Gompers said yesterday an additional $880 has been recovered from a friend of Anderson in Dayton, Ohio

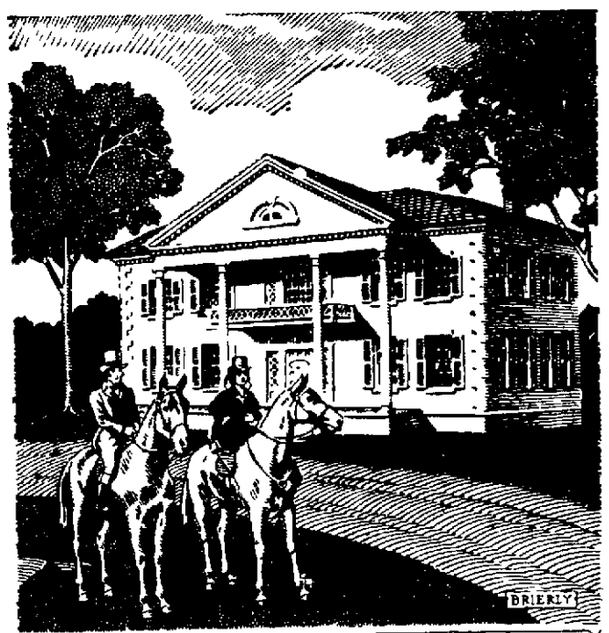
GALION — Miss Mary Snyder, 25, Galion telephone operator, is seriously ill, according to reports from University Hospital, Columbus She was admitted to the hospital, Saturday, from Galion City Hospital She is suffering with spinal meningitis She had been ailing for the past two weeks, working three days of last week at the Northern Ohio Telephone Exchange here

Homes of Famous People



1833. The JUMEL MANSION, New York City. Built 1765

By The Associated Press

A new revolutionary spirit in building with a new principle expressing it, was originated in Italy by Andrea Palladio, spread through France into England and, by 1700, had reached America Heretofore, most houses were built in accordance with the purpose each was to serve, with utility outweighing beauty, while this new style advocated building with strict regard to a symmetrical exterior appearance. Wealthy Americans were now able to give attention to gracious living, and to beauty as well as utility. So "Good Architecture" became standardized from Maine to Georgia Books on architecture were published and eagerly read by prospective builders. The Jumel Mansion, a classic descendent of this style, was built in 1765 by Robert Morris for his bride, Mary Philipse, later was George Washington's headquarters, from 1810, was the home of Madame Jumel, who entertained in regal style, and in 1833, of her second husband, Aaron Burr This splendid edifice, now open to the public, is one of the three surviving Pre-Revolutionary buildings on Manhattan Island

Annual Rotary 'Ladies' Night' Attended by 141

One hundred forty-one Rotarians, their wives and guests attended the club's annual Ladies Night party Tuesday night at the Hotel Harding

A musical comedy trio from Findlay provided the entertainment with its version of "The King and I" by Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II. Members of the trio were Mrs William O'Brien, vocalist; Mrs. James Child, narrator, and Allen Dudley, pianist.

Guests introduced by Dr. James I. Greetham, president, were Mrs Julia Strelitz, Miss Judy Strelitz, Mrs. Fred Haybeck, Mr. and Mrs Frank Thompson Mrs. David Evans and Mrs Thomas Sutherland, all of Marion; Mrs. C. M. Gray of Waterville and Mrs. Francis Eagen of Cleveland.

Dr. Greetham also introduced the Rotarians, and their wives, who had been received as members since the last Ladies Night party They were Rev and Mrs Walter C Eyster, Mr and Mrs. Warren G Harding, Mr and Mrs George Krohe Mr and Mrs Arthur L Martin Mr and Mrs John A Maxwell Jr Dr and Mrs Richard W Mills Jr Mr and Mrs Robert H VanSickle and Mr and Mrs Samuel H Wood

Virgil Dye served as chairman of the program committee which also included Mrs Dye, Mr and Mrs Robert E White and Mr. and Mrs Frank M Foster.

The lady guests were given passes to a Marion Baron hockey game, pocket-size telephone indexes and large mums from the table decorations

When the Pilgrims first heard the rasp of cicadas, they thought it resembled the sounds made when they said "Pharaoh" and it reminded them of the locust plagues of Egypt which they had read about in the Bible

Children Blamed In 2 City Blazes

Boys playing with matches were cited today by Fire Chief Owen Sifritt as the cause of two of three minor fires quelled by the Marion Fire Department Tuesday.

At 5 40 p m, Sifritt said, a boy playing with matches set fire to some grass at the corner of Gill and Bellefontaine Ave. The fire spread over the grass and ignited rubbish at the corner. Firemen from the Center St station quelled the blaze which caused no property loss.

A five-year-old son of Mrs Margaret Cook of 152½ N State St set fire to some clothing and linoleum as he was playing with matches according to Sifritt Firemen from the Central station answered the call, but the fire had been extinguished before they arrived Loss was set at $20

A leaf fire on Pleasant St at 6 58 p m. spread into leaves in a catch basin A leaky gas line there caught fire and men from the Central Station were called to put out the flames No loss was reported

Residents of Lima Holding Noses as Sludge Bed Burns

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—What do you do when the whole town stinks so bad its residents cough, cry, retch and cuss"

Nothing much'

Nothing much, that is if the trouble is a burning sludge bed—five acres of sewage waste poured out to dry

Lima today is blanketed by a bluish, evil-smelling haze, dubbed a "smench' by anguished townsfolk That's sm for smoke, 'ench' for stench.

The sludge bed from which fertilizer is excavated after the semi-liquid sludge dries is hard-by another old stinker, the Ottawa River Before it was cleaned up and deodorized Lima residents referred to it as Hawg Crick"

Lima officials are doing the only thing they know to rid the city of the sludge bed fire and stench They are pumping water from the ore-time stinker into the present-day ditto

The result has not been encouraging

Most townsfolk opine between wracking coughs that the water just makes the stench worse

The sludge bed lies southwest of the city

The city is hoping for a northeast wind—and a goose-drowning rain

The SECOND ANNIVERSARY of Our West Town Drive-In Branch

FRIDAY, OCTOBER TWENTY-THIRD

Exterior view of our West Town Branch, taken from W. Center St.

SECOND WINDOW ADDED

Popularity of the drive-in window from the start, soon disclosed the need for a second one. This was installed about a year ago and has been instrumental in reducing "waiting time" to a minimum.

Interior view taken from Center St. Front

Stop in and let us tell you how very much we appreciate your growing use of the convenience of drive-in banking

This branch was established to meet the needs of a community "on wheels": —to simplify the paying of utility bills . water, gas, electric, telephone . . . with one check, — to conserve the time of homemakers who are the family business managers, — to provide adjoining free parking space for customers coming inside the bank — to enable farmers to get in and out quickly without waste of valuable time

OTHER SERVICES INCLUDE:

CHECKING DEPOSITS
PAYMENTS ON LOANS
BANK MONEY ORDERS
CHANGE TRANSACTIONS
SAVINGS DEPOSITS
SAFETY DEPOSIT VAULT
CASHING CHECKS
FILLING PAYROLLS

CAME TOO DEAR

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (UP)—John Gains killed a deer with his automobile while driving on the Merritt Parkway. A state law specifies that an autoist may claim a deer, if the animal is killed in an accident. However, Gains apparently lost his appetite for venison when he looked at the badly damaged front-end of his car. He gave the deer to a game warden.

Medical Journal Approves Idleness

BOSTON (UP)—It's all right, men, to sprawl on the sofa and watch the wife do the dishes—the doctor says so.

"Idleness, once the habit is acquired," observes the New England Journal of Medicine, "seems to carry with it its own reward, although its pleasures may be enhanced by a contemplation of the activities of others."

It is at times when the mind appears to be completely inactive that it may come up with the most sensational ideas, according to the doctors. And the person who can "just sit" and do absolutely nothing "indeed, may be said to have achieved a new and high level of maturity."

". . . the mind that is capable of any constructive thought at all performs some of its most spectacular feats when it is apparently idle—when it is daydreaming and at ease, or seems to be registering only what the eyes take in as they watch the motions of the hands in some physical task."

The Journal goes on to ask:

"Who today knows what may have been passing through Newton's mind, or what he may have been watching immediately prior to the episode with the apple?"

Could it have been his wife doing the dishes?

University Offers Free Termite Identification

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP)—Memo to American homeowners:

Send your termite suspects to Rutgers University's agriculture college here for free identification.

An entomology professor, Dr. John B. Schmitt, who made the offer, also suggested these ways of avoiding the blind, soft-bodied insects:

Avoid direct contact of soil with wood, since temites eat wood as their food.

Provide air circulation in crawl spaces under floors, keep exterior woodwork at least six inches from the earth and never build a house with an earth-filled porch alongside "appetizing" sills, joists and framing.

ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure

REALLY, CORNELIUS—I AM SO HAPPY TO SEE YOU HAVE DESTROYED YOUR CRUTCHES—THEY ARE NOT DESTROYED—I AM KEEPING THEM TO LET YOU BREAK THEM OVER MY THICK SKULL—
SO?
YEARS AGO WHEN YOU GRADUATED, I THOUGHT YOU WERE A LOVELY BUT USELESS SOCIAL BUTTERFLY WHO WOULD SHUDDER AT THE THOUGHT OF DOING ANY HOUSEWORK—
BUT NOW I—
I WAS A FASHIONABLE YOUNG LADY, AND HOUSE-WORK WAS NOT FASHIONABLE—TO PAINT FLOWERS ON CHINA WAS THE ONLY WORK CONSIDERED FIT FOR A LADY—
WHEN ANNIE TOLD ME HOW YOU COULD COOK AND SEW, I REALIZED WHAT A BLIND KOOKABURRA I WAS—DO YOU KNOW WHAT A KOOKABURRA IS?
NOAH WEBSTER IS MY FAVORITE AUTHOR—AND I ABORE HILARIOUS DONKEYS—

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

CANYON, THE FIREMEN SALVAGED SOME OF OUR THINGS.. I BELIEVE THESE WILL FIT YOU.
THANKS, MR HALL! AH-H! THIS BEATS MELTED ICE!
AS CONSUL HERE, I WAS TOLD THAT AN AMERICAN MOUNTAIN CLIMBER NAMED STEVE CANYON MIGHT BE RETURNING TO INDIA THROUGH THIS COUNTRY!
TOO BAD YOUR PARTY FAILED TO CLIMB YOUR PEAK, AFTER THE BRITISH DID SO WELL ON EVEREST.
MILTON CANIFF
BUT—SPEAKING AS A PRIVATE CITIZEN NOT AS CONSUL—DID YOU LEAVE THE SNOW AND THE FLOWERS IN A HEALTHY CONDITION?
VERY! AND I FELT IT WOULD STAY THAT WAY FROM THE MOMENT I PULLED AWAY FROM THE DOC!

Dollar Day Creator Decides To Retire

SCHENECTADY, N Y (UP)—The man who invented Dollar Day has retired

Evan R Cullings rounded out 52 years of service with the Schenectady Union-Star recently and decided to "vacation for the rest of my life"

Cullings who rose to manager of general advertising of the newspaper, evolved the idea of Dollar Day sales in 1914

One day in February of that year, Cullings recalled, he was talking with a shoe store operator who complained that some of his stock wasn't moving

"Why don't you offer these shoes at a dollar a pair" Cullings asked, pointing out that stock that didn't move wasn't returning any profit

Asthey talked, Cullings decided maybe other merchants would agree to a citywide bargain sale He sold the idea store-to-store and the first Dollar Day was held

The event developed into a twice-a-year feature here and the idea rapidly spread to other communities

"Today Dollar Day is practically universal" Cullings said

Cullings began his career in 1901 as a one-man advertising staff for the old Daily Union The paper was consolidated with the Evening Star in 1911 and Cullings was named manager of general advertising in 1918

'Foolish Job' Lasted Quarter of a Century

NEW YORK (UP)—Her friends thought she was just plain foolish to take a job in an industry that was sure to collapse Gerry Lister recalled with a smile

She took a chance as secretary to an executive of an airway Now she's one of the few women veterans in the industry

"We only had two planes and two pilots on regular commercial runs then," Gerry explained "They flew 90 miles from Key West to Havana" She just passed the 25-year mark with the company

She learned to fly in 1930 and was the 250th woman to hold a U S pilot's license "Now" she says with a shudder, "I look at those crates we used to fly and wonder how I had the nerve"

Names that have since become famous were frequent visitors to her office in those early days

Charles Lindbergh Frank Hawks and Roscoe Turner were young pilots who used to stop by when Gerry was typing her first letters
